Portland Man Dies in Ridge Road Disaster

John Straight, prominent business man of Portland, Oregon, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon, when the car in which he was riding plunged over a steep embankment on the ridge, about four miles above Castaic.

Earle Brownlee, driver of the car, was not fatally injured.

Brownlee's car was one of two which were returning to Portland from a road mapping expedition thru Mexico.

Willard Hawley, who was driving the other car, noted that his companions were not following him and went back to investigate. It was found that Brownlee had extricated himself from the wreck and secured a ride to the hospital with a passing car. Straight's body was found under the car.

The general supposition held by Constable Pilcher, who is investigating the accident, is that Brownlee fell asleep at the wheel.

Straight's body was removed to Noble's Undertaking parlors.

Important Firebreak Nears Completion

K. W. Stepp, foreman of the County Forestry Dept., trail and firebreak construction crew, which has been working on the ridge, in back of the Ruiz ranch, moved his camp Thursday, and together with a 30-man outfit, is now located near the City Camp in San Francisquito canyon.

Stepp's crew is building a 40 foot firebreak along the ridge, between the San Francisquito and Elizabeth Lake canyons. The work was started May 8th and has already been completed to a distance of eight miles. This is a very important firebreak as it gives access to a large territory where the fire hazard is bad.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas, Walter Larson and Jack Alkire went up to the city reservoir early Tuesday morning in quest of the luscious bass. It is understood that Walt actually prayed for the fish to bite and they did—for all but Walt. We suggest that Walt go after them next time with a net, a diver's suit and a sack of salt.

Mrs. Garner, of Los Angeles, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Harker.

Club Entertainment Huge Success

Hap-a-lan Hall was filled to capacity last Saturday nite when the Study Section of the Newhall Woman's Club gave a REAL entertainment of a varied nature.

Several vocal selections were rendered by Miss Peters, teacher in Boquet Canyon.

A dialogue entitled Billy Grimes was delightfully given by Gladys Woolridge and Fannie Eill.

The farce entitled, "The Filming of Uncle Tom's Cabin," was cleverly "put on" by the "reel actresses." A bushel of laughs went with every act and movement.

McIntyre's Minstrels delighted the audience and this feature was given as it had proved so popular at a previous performance. This playlet was given by Mesdames Young, Lane, and Densmore.

Mrs. Young was chairman and director of the evening's entertainment and much credit is due her and those who worked with her.

The Club extends to all those who helped make the nite a great success, its sincerest thanks. Were it not for the patronage received, the club house could never materialize.

Club members consult your bulletin board in the post office. It may contain something interesting.

Important School Meeting

A meeting of the taxpayers was called Wednesday nite to consider the needs of our town for more adequate school buildings and grounds.

There was much discussion of the subject and it was shown that the present school building needs a new roof and new floor, and to be made larger, or a school bungalow for additional room be built.

The motion was carried that a $40,000 bond be put before the electors of the district, this to provide a modern fireproof building and suitable grounds.

The school board will act as a committee to investigate the possibilities and cost of a new building and grounds and will report to the taxpayers at a meeting to be called by Ralph Carr, Clerk of the School Board.

HASKELLS SURPRISED

Under the capable guidance of Mrs. Lloyd Houghton and Miss Lucille Smith, Newhall and Saugus friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haskell gathered to surprise the popular couple Wednesday evening, numbering at least sixty strong and forcefully armed with sandwiches and cakes, these neighbors easily and noisily overcame the Haskells in their own stronghold. The furniture was quickly moved from the spacious living and dining room and the floor was crowded immediately with happy couples. How could it be otherwise, with our genial Ernie Ostrup at the piano, pouring out luring inspiration?

A few hands at cards were played later in the evening. Altogether it was a very enjoyable affair.

SAUGUS ITEMS

Mrs. Walter E. Neale, gave a graduating party Wednesday nite, the 16th, to the graduating class of the Saugus school. The evening was enjoyed with card playing and dancing. The house was decorated in white and purple, the class colors. Mrs. Neale served delicious home made cake and ice cream. The graduates were Dorothy Rolls, Iva Horton, Billy Neale, Manuel Cook and Thomas Wilson. Other guests were Merle Markland, Orville Kindig, Frances Liebhart and Marian Miller.

Prizes were given to the best waltzers, which were won by Billie Neale and a Miss King. Frances Liebhart won first prize for pinning the tail on the donkey. Manuel Cook winning consolation.

Miss Peggy Kolker and Mr. Frank Smith were quietly married in Los Angeles Monday evening.

Tuesday morning, Mrs. Crandall left on an early train. Later in the day, friends found a note in her room telling of her intended marriage that day in San Bernardino. Cupid is an active worker in this community. More to follow!

Mrs. Estes spent Thursday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Markland drove to Bassett Wednesday.

Mrs. W. W. Penhorwood visited friends in Lankershim Thursday.

The following article written by John H. Atwood, a prominent attorney appeared in the magazine "The Christian Business Man":

IF THERE ever was a time in the history of our country when there was a need of such organizations as the Business Men's Christian Unity, that time is now. It seems to me that perhaps more than all other factors responsible for the present apparent moral degeneration are the false standards that have obtained among us for too many years. We have been using as the standard by which successes are measured, the one thing that perhaps more than all things explains the situation: That success is measured by money; that it matters not how one gets money, if he gets it. The expression, "money mad," explains the present day attitude in no small degree. I do not refer to the man who is simply striving to gather to himself a competency, something that in reason shall serve his wants and possess him of the means of helping his neighbors, but I have reference to the mad reach for something that is not needed.

A government such as ours must rest upon an honest people or we shall find that it is resting upon sand. Probity and honesty must obtain in the great mass of the people if the republic is to endure, for after all is said and done, the servants that we select are from among ourselves and as we are, they in some measure at least, will be. More of the Christ must be injected into the commercial codes of the nation. There must be more recognition of the two additions to the Ten Commandments that are embodied in the Sermon on the Mount and in the Golden Rule, the recognition that there is something more than the mere acquisition of money and the retention of it. Of all the things taught by the Master, the one thing that seems to be above all others is the proclamation of the brotherhood of man and the duty that we owe to one another by virtue of that brotherhood. We are the sons of one, we are the brothers of all; and a failure to recognize the duty that flows from us toward each of our fellows because of that brotherhood is a failure to recognize that which is supreme.

In the attainment of true success, we must learn to be kind. We must first be tolerant, because tolerance is the father of kindness. When we have become kind we have gone a long way along the road of adherence to the doctrines that we have been talking about and we realize that higher than the accumulation of wealth is the recognition of the brotherhood of man: and then we recognize the Golden Rule as a controlling factor in the business world.

The Heart of a Rose

By THORNTON DOELLE

Have you ever looked
In the heart of a rose,
And read a story there—
Of tears that burned,
And a heart that yearned
For someone who could not care?
Oh, the mem'ries that cling
To the end of a day,
Jealously claim our secret woes;
Yet each one, out there,
In the garden somewhere,
Is known to the heart of a rose.

Some people are so dumb they think a pool room is a swimming tank.

Get 'em young, treat 'em ruff, tell
'em nothing—and pay alimony.

these two organizations get together customers, it is A DANCE! The last affair, given at the Woman's Club on last Tuesday evening was a real party, everyone entering into a happy spirit of peptimism befitting the occasion.

The music was par excellence.
Favors were presented to all in at-

A prize waltz and prize fox-trot brot

A special feature of the evening was a jazz dance solo, presented by Trixie,
Santa Monica's incomparable jazz baby.

KEEP THE FIRE WOLF'S FEET OUT OF THE HILLS

NCE again, California faces the terrible and devastating mountain and forest fire season. Officially, the season starts June 1, for County, State and National protective and suppression forces. It behooves every man, woman and child in the State to do all in his or her power to keep the feet of the fire wolf off the public domains.

The 1924 season presents unusual hazards both on account of an extremely dry year and because of the ever increasing tourist travel to the hills.
If you are not familiar with the rules and regulations governing your conduct in the hills, now is the time to get posted.

Observe every forest ruling to the letter and make it a point to see that your neighbor does the same. Keep in close touch with the forest officers and report immediately to the nearest one, any fire that comes to your notice. Be sure to secure a camp fire permit before building a camp fire anywhere on or adjacent to National Forest lands.
This requirement is imperative.

Mint Canyon Juleps

Mr. and Mrs. Hope of Soledad canyon are guests at the beaches this week. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Groger and Miss Sara Whiteside are "keeping house" at the ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Smith are leaving next Sunday for a ten days outing. They will visit Pismo Beach, San Jose and relatives in Sacramento. Upon their return they will locate in Long Beach where Mr. Smith is employed with the Santa Fe Oil Co.

A seven and a half pound boy arrived last Saturday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Mitchell in Soledad Canyon. It is perfectly useless to surmise that any one but this husky lad will rule from now on, at least in the Mitchell domicile. Even the grandparents have conceded the fact. The happy parents have grown up in this community and the little mother before her marriage was Miss Rosemary Prickett Sterling. Congratulations are in order.

What might have been a more serious accident than it proved to be, occurred when the brakes were suddenly applied on the car driven by Mrs. J. K. Shappee last Sunday morning on her way to Sunday School at Sulphur Springs accompanied by two small children who are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Shappee. In rounding the curve at Myerly Crest a car driven by Bob Prickett struck the Shappee car. The impact threw the little girl thru the windshield, cutting her about the face which necessitated the taking of several stitches. Mr. and Mrs. Shappee and the little boy escaped with a shaking up.

Thru the removing of guards the early part of last week, Sunday visitors in Mint seemed to be about up to normal.

The Mint Canyon school is closing today. The teacher, Mrs. Tony Held, is giving a big picnic in Balestier's grove for the pupils and patrons.

MY MOTHER'S VOICE

By H. CLAY NEEDHAM

My mother's voice;

I hear it oft in sleep and dreams
While I through paths of childhood stray;
It whispers then of fairer scenes
Where streets of gold and flowers lay;
Where ages deep roll cycles on
In endless day and shadeless sun;
And pleasures' keen transporting joy
Comes with the smile of the Heavenly One.

My mother's voice;

Ah, me! 'Tis hushed these years ago;
No song it sings, nor breathes a prayer,
Nor speaks in gentle loving tones
To me, so full of tender care.
When sorrows come, or cares oppress,
And life an empty bauble seems,
I long to lean on loving breast,
Be lost with song in sleep and dreams.

I hear that voice,

As years glide slowly by and leave
Their marks upon this wasting clay;
While gathering mists becloud the eye,
And thick the locks are strewn with gray.
But oh! beyond the setting sun,
Where lies that land of rest and choice,
Beyond the shade and sleep of death,
I'll hear again my mother's voice.

It lives again;

In deepest tones of sweetest love
That voice shall fall on waiting ear,
While paeans, of the Heavenly hosts,
Come thrilling forth, so sweet and clear.
Sweet will be the rapturous songs
Of angels of the Master's choice,
But, sweeter far to hungry heart,
Will be to me, my mother's voice.

Joe Ricalmos Loses Life in Auto Accident

While Joe Ricalmos and Pete Rivera Jr., were driving Sunday morning on the boulevard near the Wilmott place, their car collided with a truck and Ricalmos was instantly killed. The deceased who was about twenty-two years of age, had been working on the Rivera ranch and was said to be industrious and well liked.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, burial taking place in San Francisco canyon.

Old Barrel Makes Ideal Bathing for the Birds

The lot at the rear of our home we have fitted up as a bird sanctuary, and we are greatly enjoying the visitations and carols of the birds which are our invited guests.

In the center of the sanctuary is the birds' open-air bath and drinking fountain, made from a barrel left here by the plasterers when our home was built. The value of the barrel for the purpose was discovered quite by accident one day after a heavy shower. The barrel stood bottom up and it was covered with an inch of sparkling rain water.

We thought nothing of it at the time. But an hour or so later from our study window, which overlooks the bird sanctuary, we saw a blue-jay fly down and get a drink from the water on the barrel. Not long after that a pair of mourning doves appeared and gave themselves a delightful shower bath before they flew away.

That gave us an idea. We already had a good-sized lunch counter attached to one of the oak trees. Now we went out and smoothed off the ground, laid a foundation of inch boards, and placed the barrel on them. Then we used a carpenter's level to make sure that the bottom would hold an inch of water all the way around.

Then we gave the improvised bird bath two coats of ivory-colored paint—white is too glaring in Florida sunshine—and let it set hard. After that, to make the birds' watering-place more attractive, we planted marigolds around the barrel, with coleus in between them.

For the one American dollar and small amount of time we expended in fitting up this bird sanctuary, we are constantly receiving both knowledge and pleasure in studying our bird guests and listening to their singing recitals.—Bert Morehouse in Our Dumb Animals.

"Davy Jones"

The origin of "Davy Jones" is unknown. A rather lame and dubious derivation regards it as a compound of "Duffy," a West Indian negro spirit name, and Jonah, the prophet of the Scriptures. The name "Davy Jones," it is said, alluded jeerily to Jonah's unusual adventure with the whale.

In sailor lore Davy Jones is an evil spirit of the sea. Sometimes the name is applied by sailors to the devil in general. The ocean as the grave of men drowned at sea is called "Davy Jones' locker."—Detroit News.

Complete Halt

"What is the voting line held up for?" demanded a local boss. "That comes of locating the polling place in a millinery shop." "What's wrong?" "One of the lady voters is now looking at hats."

Every Inhabitant of Town Helps Make Muslin

Practically everybody in the little town of Tarare, with its 12,000 inhabitants, in central France, recently referred to in By the Way, is interested in the making of muslin. Quite half the population are actual workers in the mills or in their homes, where muslin is either made on household looms or covered with most beautiful embroidery.

Although the population of Tarare has diminished in recent years the muslin industry is still very remunerative, and there are some streets in which one's guide will point to the houses of men who (in France) are multi-millionaires—men of great wealth who continue to live side by side with less fortunate citizens, who "thee" and "thou" their rich neighbors as they pass them in the streets. All these people are ready to admit that they owe their prosperity and livelihood to the work and perseverance of M. Antoine Simonet; but they will also tell one that something is due to the water of the river Turdine, which gives the light cotton materials of Tarare certain incomparable qualities as regards texture and color which are recognized by women the world over.—Detroit News.

Ford Sales in 1924 Over Three Quarter Million

The Los Angeles branch of the Ford Motor Company has just received word from Detroit to the effect that Ford sales for 1924 have already passed three quarters of a million. Car and truck deliveries alone, show an increase of 102,158 over 1923. The present month opened with a bigger demand for Ford products than shown any month this year. Ford retail sales in the United States during the first ten days of May averaged 8,385 daily which exceeded the last ten-day period of the record-breaking sales month of April. This clearly indicates a continued upward trend of the market.

Figures just compiled show a total of 757,023 Ford units having been retailed to customers from January 1st up to and including May 10th. Of this number Ford car and truck deliveries alone show a gain of 102,158 over the same period a year ago.

With the increase attained accompanied by the present outlook for business, the company anticipates a new high sales figure this month.

Heard About Town

The County Supervisors have never as yet, allowed the local Masonic Club any money for rent, light or heat in maintaining a Justice Court therein. The Masonic Club donated the building for one year. We trust that the Supervisors appreciate this fact. However, if said Supervisors do not see fit to pay rent by June 1, all departments now maintaining quarters at the Club building will be obliged to seek new quarters. We think that the Supervisors would show some wisdom in "coming across" to the mutual advantage of all parties concerned.

The Newhall Chamber of Commerce is having two fine enameled signs made, one of which will be erected at each entrance to the town. The signs are three and one-half feet square and bear the inscription, NEWHALL—A Good Place to Live. Fine work C. of C.
