"For Each Other---Not Against Each Other."

New Quarantine Rulings Issued By State Department

Port C. Miller received from the State Department of Agriculture, Wednesday morning, a bulletin covering certain rulings which went into effect May 21. The rulings apply to the quarantined area of Los Angeles County, which includes all the territory south of southern the boundary of the Santa Barbara and Angeles National Forests, on a line running east from Ventura County and San Bernardino County, just north of the towns of Saugus, San Fernando, Altadena, La Crescenta, Glendora etc.

According to these new rulings, movement of live stock, feed, poultry and such products, is prohibited within the area mentioned except under special permit.

Dogs and cats may be transported under leash only.

All persons other than owners or employees, are prohibited from entering or trespassing on any private ranch, range or pasture land upon, in or around which, any cloven-hoofed animals are kept, except by special permit.

Section 4. of the quarantine laws prohibits hurting or fishing in lakes within the restricted area.

Horses and other draft animals may be moved on roads only, provided they are under saddle or in harness or led by rope or halter; otherwise only by special permit.

Owners of stray animals will be arrested, and the animals turned over to the nearest pound.

If dead animals are found, a report should be made to the supervising veterinarian of inspection so that proper disposition may be made of the carcass.

Special permits may be secured from the County Horticultural Commission or State or Federal Department of Agriculture in the Pacific Finance Building, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Province was reported as seriously ill, Thursday noon.

An item appeared in last week's Signal, stating that while Mrs. Shappee was driving to Sunday School in Mint Canyon, her car was struck by one driven by Bob Prickett. We are informed that this is a mistake; that Mr. Prickett's car was standing, and was off the highway, and that Mrs. Shappee's car ran into the Prickett car. This is according to the latest information given this paper.

In Judge Miller's Court

The local court business was very dull the past week. Either people are getting good, or have improved means of keeping out of the way of the law.

E. W. Myers, L. Bowman, W. J. Blackie, F. Riggan, Mrs. J. Enright, S. I. Root and L. Bash picked Yucca flowers this week. They won't do it again, for it cost them $5 each in Justice court to find that it is against the county ordinance. L. Richardson, B. G. Phillips, H. Sylvester and T. Turner contributed $10 each for the same offense.

Judge Miller is transferring his headquarters to the government Forestry station this week, in readiness to take his place as fire dispatching officer for the government.

For New School House.

Voters of the Newhall school district will be asked on June 27 to express their will as to an issue of school bonds amounting to $40,000, for the construction of a new school house. The old building has become overcrowded, and also needs extensive repairs, if it is to be used, so the board decided to ask for a building which would not only be a credit to the town and district, but provide for the school needs of the community for some time to come. A meeting will be held soon, at which time the proposition will be fully explained by the members of the board.

SAUGUS ITEMS

F. S. Wood, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Garnes, and Mrs. L. L. Wood, left Monday night for Oakland, the home of Mrs. Garnes. Mrs. Wood will remain in Oakland with a friend until the middle of June.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Markland visited this week in San Bernardino, with Mr. Markland's brother's family.

"Bob" Woodard opened his confectionery last Sunday. Mrs. Wm. Phillips is in charge.

The many friends of Mrs. W. W. Jenkins will be glad to know that she is recovering her health.

Woman's Club Notes

With the prospect of helping to entertain several hundred eastern guests at the San Fernando Mission, Play Day, June 7th during the Biennial, Newhall Woman's Club is all a bustle with joyous anticipation. Thru the courtesy of the chairman of Valley Day, Mrs. Griswold, president of Ebell Club, San Fernando, extended to the Club of Newhall an invitation to come in on the festivities and act as one of the hostesses. In being so honored, a reply in the affirmative was sent at once. There are fourteen clubs working in perfect harmony to make this a banner day in the life of all San Fernando clubdom, including Newhall.

Is it any wonder, then, that the ecstasy is running so high, when never again, possibly, will so notable an assembly be gathered at Brand Park. The G. F. W. C. to be held in Los Angeles next week, will be the culmination of months of hard work, but the lectures and work of the various departments, carried out on a national scale will be revealed. Not only national, but international, for many foreign countries will be represented, and reports will come from round the globe. For many of us it will be the chance of a life time to see and hear these wonderful women.

The guests will be received at San Fernando by the fourteen presidents who will conduct them to the long table set in readiness under the pergola and where the pepper trees form a shade. Mesdames Winter, Urquhart, Sartori, Toll, and a number of other notable women have been invited to speak. Spanish dances, singing, violin selections, and other forms of entertainment have been provided.

California will be represented by one of the presidents, who will be placed on a pedestal where fruit and flowers will be thrown at her feet. Picnic tables will be provided for the fourteen clubs who are represented by different committees. Newhall women should honor the occasion by a picnic party; every woman bringing her own lunch. We could go more into details, but space forbids. Every club member is invited.

Committee workers should not visit before the luncheon, but attend strictly to the work assigned them. To entertain this number of guests, system is required, and the minutest detail given is wholly essential for a successful day.

Be sure your camp fire is dead; then bury it.

Boost School Bonds.

J. B. Inglis, of Van Nuys, and R. L. Frazer, of San Fernando were in Newhall Monday evening in the interests of the school bond election to be held June 3. They gave some startling figures in regard to the present attendance, the phenomenal increase in the newer districts, and the terrific congestion that in the older sections has forced more than 20,000 pupils to half time attendance. An increase of 25,000 within a short time has made additional rooms to the number of 800 necessary, and the city and county attendance is rising faster each month. One or two examples were given to illustrate. In one addition the subdividers less than two years ago offered the district a block of ground provided a twelve-room building were built. An inspector reported in favor of the building, and after some good-natured joshing, the building was put up. Today the school officers are trying to provide room to relieve the congestion in that very building. In another section a school where one hundred pupils enrolled in September, 1922, and one year later the enrollment was sixteen hundred.

The amount asked under the call is $34,000,000, which seems large, but carefully checked with the needs of the city and county, is estimated to be several millions too low.

A large delegation of the Ku Klux Klan passed north through Newhall, Saturday morning. Most of the members were robed and hooded, but not masked. It was supposed they were out for a picnic, but they didn't state.

The use of the veto power, and the tendency of executives, both national and state, to dictate to legislative bodies, are matters requiring careful attention, or our representative form of government is apt to become a farce. Only two grounds for veto were doubtless intended by the original framers of our national constitution; one that an act was unconstitutional, and the other applying to plying to bills appropriating money, this providing a check on a tendency to governmental extravagance. And both of these grounds were supposed to be very apparent, to be tenable.

But of late years, in fact, beginning in President Cleveland's administration and continuing down to the present time, we find the national executive interposing vetoes based on personal beliefs and feelings, and seldom based on points of law. Not only that, but there is a general tendency on the part of executives, both national and state, to dictate to legislators, and to demand passage of certain laws, and to use political power or prestige to enforce these demands. It is a tendency which in time might easily result in the perversion of a representative form of government into a dictatorship. Given a complaisant legislative body and the easily-magned accident of a corrupt or power-loving executive, and the trick might easily be turned.

There should be a movement to restore the balance of power between the legislative and executive branches of our national and state governments, and it is refreshing to see a strong tendency in Congress to correct this matter, even tho as upright an executive as the present occupant of the presidential chair had to get the lesson.

Los Angeles burglars and hold-up men furnish good excuses for stories which, if true, would lead one to believe there are diamonds and jewelry of untold value carelessly thrown around in every home, or laboriously carried on dark nights by their owners to the hold-up men's hunting grounds. It's a safe bet that most of the stories of big jewelry losses are lies--the kind you know are lies, but can't prove they are.

The Presbyterian general assembly is in session at Grand Rapids, Michigan, and from reports, are having an interesting time. The resolutions in regard to motion pictures and evolution each have an unusual interest, owing to the fact that Will Hays, movie czar, and W. J. Bryan, evolution's opponent, are both present as delegates.

Some of those scientific sharps who spend so much time trying to find remedies for diseases and other evils, are respectfully referred to the road-hog.

Mint Canyon Juleps

Some remodeling of the house on the ranch of Glen A. Wright is being done.

Leslie Wright was a visitor at the home of his uncle, Dr. Chas. O. Petty of Fullerton.

Mrs. Bisbee of San Diego County is visiting her mother, Mrs. Hayhurst at Sterling.

School closed in the Honby district last Friday. Miss Thelma Russell was the teacher.

Logan Goodnight, of Los Angeles visited his parents in the Soledad Canyon for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson were weekend guests at their parents home in upper Mint.

Harry Newmann, employed at the Gypsum mine, was a Los Angeles visitor for several days.

Mrs. Wm. Dodrill attended school exercises at Whittier last week, where her little sister June, is a pupil.

John Meissner and son, Alfred, of Pasadena, accompanied by a brother of the former, were weekend guests of the family at Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Crist and daughter Dorothy, accompanied by their niece and cousin, Miss Kathryn Markwell, all of Los Angeles, were Sunday visitors of friends in Mint.

The school house plans submitted by the board some time ago to County Superintendent Keppel, have been approved. Bids are now being received and the contract will be let early. The building will be completed by the Fall term.

Mrs. L. G. Goodnight is home again after several weeks in a hospital at Los Angeles. Mrs. Milton W. Wasson, of Muroc is the attending nurse, and will remain at the Goodnight ousehold for some time.

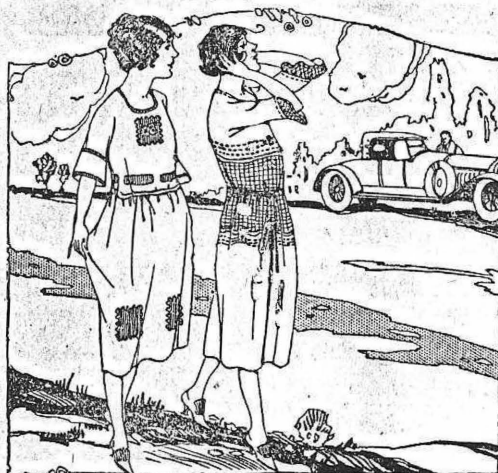

Miss Mildred Burns who appeared on the Orpheum circuit last week in Los Angeles, visited her college chum, Mrs. Glen A. Wright on last Saturday. She was accompanied by her mother and aunt. Other guests at the Wright home were Mr. and Mrs.

Dukes of Los Angeles, the J. S. Tucker family of Santa Monica and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lewis of Sawtele.

A feature of the Mint Canyon school picnic held at Balestier's camp grounds in Mint last Friday was the drawing of gifts by the pupils from a "Scrap Bag" presented by their teacher, Mrs. Tony Held. And last but not least by any means, was the cutting of the piece de resistance, the cake baked and decorated for the occasion by Earl Gardner, chef at the Gypsum mine. The cake measured 14 by 20 inches with the inscription, "Mint Canyon School, May 23, 1924." Mr. Gardner is an artist at his business. Games were played by those present.

Last Thursday a "get-together" of the charter members of the "Mint Canyon Kensington Klub" was in evidence, when they assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wright. A twelve o'clock luncheon was served to the following guests: Mrs. Laura Brown, Mrs. Wm Williams, Los Angeles; Mrs. Walter E. Hilton, Glendale; Mrs. Louis Mannaugh, Graham; Mrs. Thelma Nolan and little daughter Dorothy of South Gate; Mr. and Mrs. Scott J. Resley and daughter Florence, Mrs. Hazel Skelton and small son Leiland all of Huntington Park; Mrs. Walter Baugher and Mrs. Glen Wright and little son Stanley of Mint. This Klub was organized ten years ago when the only means of locomotion for the Canyonites was old Dobbin. The Klub met every two weeks at the different homes, which was looked forward to with great pleasure. The boulevard that now runs thru the Canyon was not even dreamed of and the winding picturesque road was little traveled. So the reader can well see what these little gatherings of seven or eight ladies meant in the pioneering of Mint. Some of these people were unable to get out of the Canyon for months at a time. "Reminiscences of other days" was not slightly touched upon, but was made the chief topic of conversation. Times do change.

She Is the Hills

By THORNTON DOELLE

She is like the hills
And more—
She is a part of them;
Expressing their spirit
Of wholesome freedom
In word or deed.
The glorious spruce, the fir and pines,
That nod and whisper
In the summer breeze;
The wild flowers that dot the trail,
Bathing in the morning dew;
The babbling brook,
Scrambling o'er the rocks,
On its way
To the Valley of Peace.
The mystery of the canyons;
The song of the birds;
The sunrise at dawn
Giving new life to the world;
The sunset at dusk
Beckoning Nature to rest;
All these things
Are natural and real,
And she—
Well, she is like that:

NOTICE!
NO TRESPASSING.

A California woman farmer is said to have put up beside the road passing her ranch, a board bearing the following inscription:

NOTIS! Trespassers will B persecuted to the full extent of 2 mungrel dogs which never was over sochible to strangers & 1 double bri shotgun which aint loaded with sofa pillars. Darn if I aint gettin tired of this hell raisen on my place.

BETTER READ THIS TWICE

In every seed there is a Something that knows how to take from its environment the wherewithal to build the body of the organism it animates. From the little seed you place in the ground this Something sends roots into the earth, blades or branches into the air, and takes from the earth and the air that with which it builds.

Within the egg this Something is wooed to life by the warmth of the brooding mother's breast.

This Something knows the secret of converting food into flesh and blood, and carries on all the processes of life, in the human body, by means of impulses sent over the nerves. When a nerve is impaired, these impulses do not flow over the nerves normally, and the result is what we call disease.

Must Warn Eastern Tourists

Eastern motorists who are beginning to invade this section by thousands should be warned personally against carelessness with fire in the national forests, according to announcement by the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. It is pointed out that while residents of this section are familiar with conditions and know that the long dry season makes extra precautions necessary, the stranger does not realize the danger of leaving camp fires burning and carelessly throwing away lighted matches or burning cigarettes.

"One tree will make a million matches—one match will destroy a million trees," is the lesson that should be impressed on all motorists entering the national forests, and other sections where the dry undergrowth readily ignites and quickly gets beyond control. This situation entails constant thoughtfulness and every resident motorist is urged to impress personally the lesson upon visitors from other sections.

There are nearly 20,000,000 acres in the nineteen national forests in California, the scenic beauties of which are open to the public. The only provision that Uncle Sam makes as host is that the visitors be extremely careful with their camp fires and matches, and that they refrain from polluting streams and scattering rubbish.

Last year more than 4,000,000 persons entered the national forests of California and 85 per cent of these used their own automobiles for conveyance.

During the rainless season additional rangers are placed in the forests. Airship patrols are maintained; radio broadcasting is used; and a most elaborate season of protection of trees and visitors is placed in effect.

Every possible safeguard will be employed this year, as it is expected that at best 5,000,000 persons will accept Uncle Sam's invitation to enjoy recreation periods in his beautiful and primeval estates.

"Know Your State Capital"

Personally conducted sight-seeing trips will be provided by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce without charge for excursion parties from California cities, it was announced today in a letter received at the local Chamber of Commerce from Irvin Engler, Secretary-Manager of the Sacramento civic organization.

"Know your State Capital" is the slogan of this new movement by the Sacramento Chamber. In his letter Engler says:

"California has the most attractive Capitol building and the most extraordinary Capitol grounds of any state capitol in the United States. Thousands of Eastern tourists visit the building and grounds each year but a great number of our own Californians have never seen it. A visit to Capitol Park, with its hundreds of rare varieties of trees and plants and exceptionally beautiful surroundings, is alone worth a trip to Sacramento.

"There are other attractions, too, such as Sutter Fort, the most famous of Gold Rush landmarks with its interesting collection of relics, and Crocker Art Gallery, which houses one of the most valuable collections of paintings in the world.

"We urge the various clubs, societies and other organizations in California cities to arrange excursions and visit their capitol. We will furnish automobiles to take them on a sight-seeing trip and they will be accompanied by a lecturer who will give information on all points of interest.

"The graduating class of Livermore High School made such an excursion and was delighted over their visit. A Chico Sunday School class is also arranging an excursion. We will be glad, indeed, to co-operate with any excursion group and will make their visit well worth while."

Corfu.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

The recent occupation of the island of Corfu by Italy was on the face of it the taking by force of Greek territory by an alien nation; but the island has been cuffed about and batted back and forth so continually through the centuries that half a dozen nations, including Italy, might lay claim to it on the plea of former ownership.

Corfu is one of the parts of the lock that secures the Adriatic sea at its narrow neck from the Ionian sea and the open waters of the Mediterranean. It lies like a watch-tower in the Ionian sea before the narrowing entrance of the Strait of Otranto. To the north of it a rugged finger of Albanian mountain-land reaches out into the strait, and, bending back, forms the splendid naval harbor of Avlona, one of the golden hopes of Austrian and Italian ambitions. To the northwest of Corfu, the long Italian heel cuts out into the waters of the Ionian sea. Together, these three elements dominate the Adriatic's outlet.

Corfu is shaped somewhat like a sickle or a rough crescent, the points or horns of which are toward the Greek mainland. The northern point lacks only two miles of meeting the mainland, but the southern point is some ten miles offshore. The bulge of water which Corfu and the mainland almost make into a lake forms a wonderful land-locked roadstead which has played its part in naval affairs for two millenniums.

The town and harbor of Corfu are on the east side of the island on the shore of this roadstead across which some twelve or fifteen miles away rises the rough shore of Epirus. In the harbor is the little bustling isle of Vido, which has often been heavily fortified by its various owners.

Homer Told Its Beauties.

Bathed in Mediterranean sunshine, with a rather dry climate for a considerable period of the year, the island of Corfu has always been considered a pleasure spot; and it failed to lose this reputation even when the sitting up of a number of arms of the sea and the formation of stagnant lakes brought malaria to some of the lowlands.

Homer describes the island as a sort of paradise in the dim days of Greek beginnings. He makes it out an idyllic lotus-land of beautiful people and beautiful scenery with an abundance of figs and grapes and other fruits.

The island first emerges in history as the site of Coreyra, a city founded only a few miles from the present town of Corfu by colonists from Corinth. The date of Coreyra's birth is set at 734 B. C.—twenty-six centuries ago. The colony grew rapidly in wealth, in maritime power, and into a confident spirit of independence. Coreyra's fleet, protected in its wonderful roadstead, grew strong, and in 604 B. C. fought with its mother-city, Corinth, the first recorded Greek naval battle. Corinth won; but before long Coreyra was again independent. When a second dispute arose with Corinth, Coreyra allied itself with Athens, much as our colonial forefathers allied themselves with England's great rival, France. This move of Coreyra's led to the Peloponnesian war, the World war of classic times.

When the great fleet of Athens and her allies was on the way to Syracuse there was held in the roadstead of Coreyra a review of what was probably the greatest concentration of naval strength up to that time. Again in 1571, the same roadstead was the gathering place for another great world navy, the combined fleets of Venice, Spain and the pope, which sailed from there to the battle of Lepanto, in which they crushed the rising and formidable naval power of Turkey.

With the passing of a powerful Greece the island that is now Corfu fell into the hands of corsairs and became a pirate stronghold. Rome delivered it in 220 B. C. and absorbed it into the empire. Augustus made it his base for operations against Antony in 31 B. C.

When Rome declined this island off Greece lost importance, too. The Normans of Sicily held it in the Eleventh and Twelfth centuries, and the Genoese after them. The first foothold by Venetians was gained in 1207, but seven years later the island passed to the Greeks of Epirus for nearly half a century.

Thru an error in giving the program for the Club entertainment, the two, fine readings given by Miss Ray, of Happy Valley were omitted. We are glad to correct this, for Miss Ray's part in the program was very much enjoyed by the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilkie made a three day trip to San Diego and Imperial, last week, returning home Friday evening.

A force of deputy sheriffs established a camp at the north end of Tunnel hill on the Boulevard and remained until Thursday morning. They stopped and searched every car going south. Said they were on the lookout for three Chinamen who were being smuggled in by way of Fresno; but it is stated that at least one load of booze fell into their hands, and they intimated that one of the Chinamen was caught.
