CONNECTIONS

Influences such as music, movies and belongings can make an impact on the lifestyle that you live. Although it may seem like such a minor thing to some, the power that our surroundings has on our lives is valuable and should not be taken for granted. Music is one major aspect that is used everyday to teach and persuade us about life. Things that are portrayed in movies or in music are easy concepts that we grasp quickly and follow. These visual representations, whether they are good or bad, are a simple idea that we can connect to and use as a guide throughout high school and further.

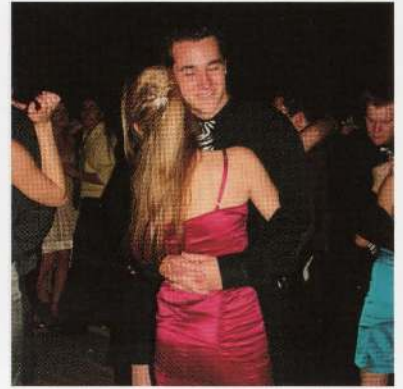

CONNECTIONS

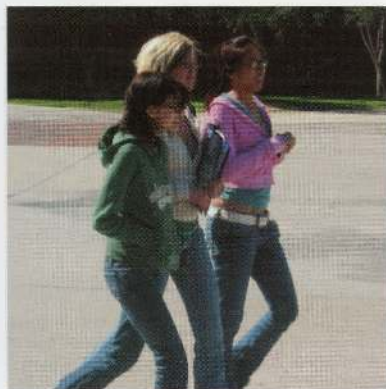

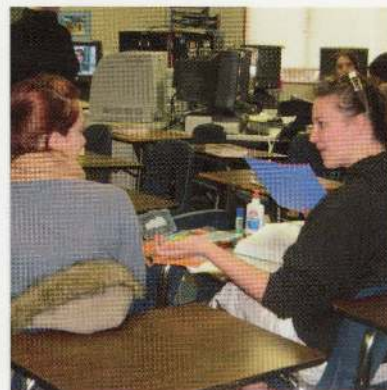

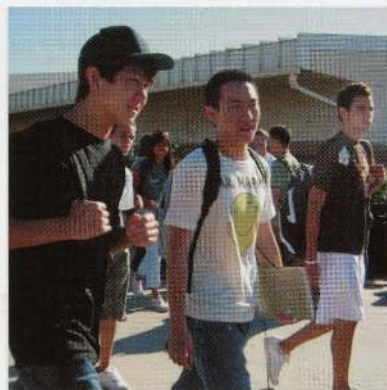

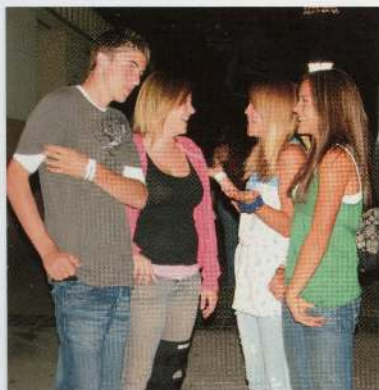

Here at Valencia, students such as yourself are challenged daily with their school work, attending class and over coming difficulties. As we face these road-blocks, what may seem like a pointless homework problem or just busy work is really defining who we become as a whole. These challenges are not put before us for nothing, they are building our investment in the future and guiding us in the right direction. Valencia High School continues to connect with it's students and mold us into what we have become today.

CONNECTIONS

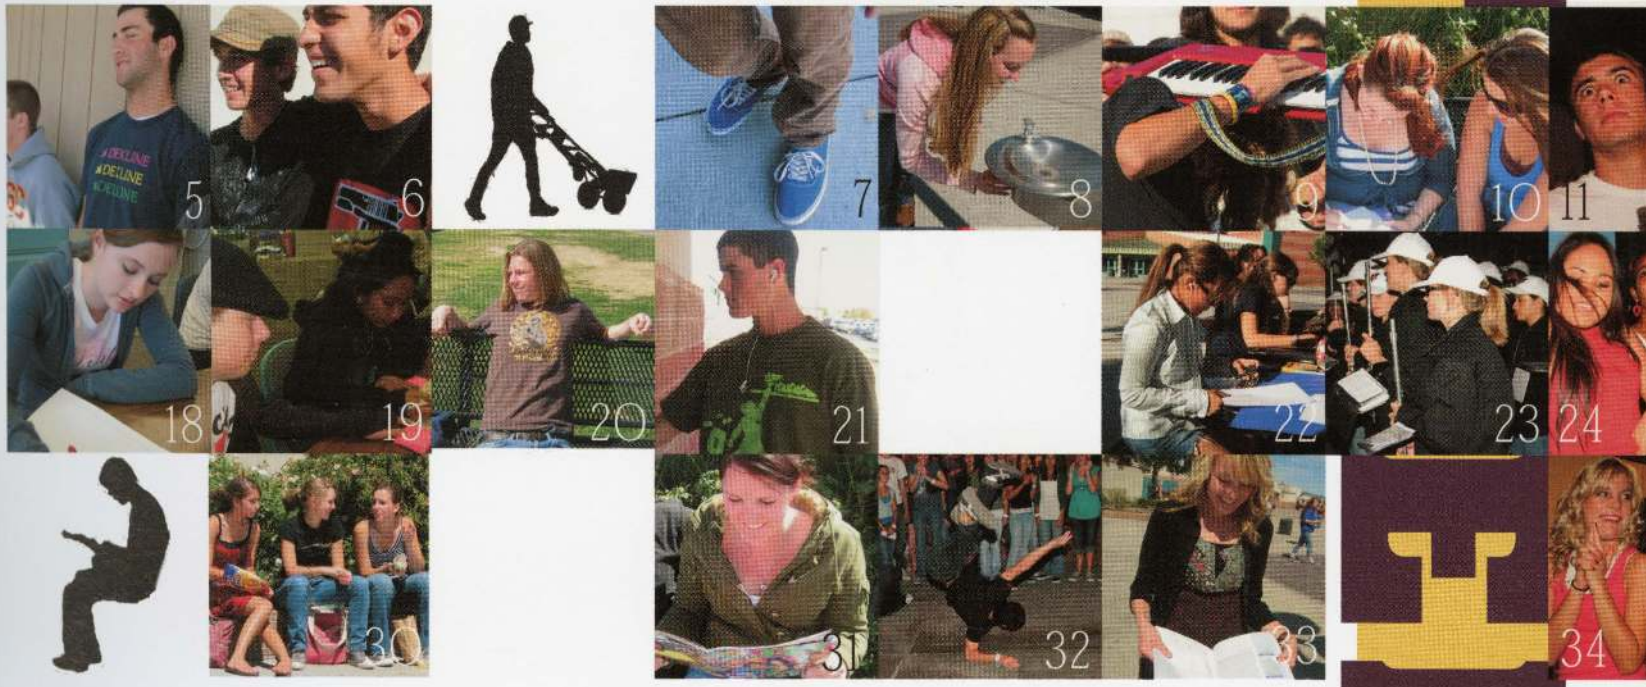

Going to school every single morning can be looked at as just another day or the chance of a life-time. For some, it is just a routine while for others, it is looked at as an opportunity to join with friends and make the most out of their education. Spending time with others is more valuable than you might think. Associating with our friends changes us. Creating a comfortable vibe between yourself and others is very important when making that first connection. Throughout life, we will continue to meet new people and adapt to the new lifestyles that they bring with them.

Rock Out

Soulfege is a starting out sextet, which is a vocal ensemble that consists of six people. All members of this talented ensemble are also a part of the various choirs at VHS, which has allowed the group to cross paths. These vocalists share a common passion for music, their primary focus being jazz. However, Soulfege also sings a'Capellas that range from R&B to folk music. Presently, Soulfege is at the beginner's stage, which includes weekend rehearsals and performances of arranged ensembles. In the future, Soulfege aspires to write their own songs and book local gigs. A memorable moment the band shares is when they attended the VHS Swing Dance and Rosa Rivadeneira, the soprano vocalist, fell as she was dancing. "Although it was funny for us, it was embarrassing for her." Aside from rehearsals, the band members see one another during brunch, as they wait in line for the red cart and partake in "incredibly odd conversations." They also remain friends via the Internet, especially through the virtual world of Myspace. To Soulfege, being in a band is "getting together to hangout and doing something we hope other people will enjoy."

THE SOURCE

Guitar: Harrison Leonard
Lead vocals/Keyboard: Aaron Goldich
Bass: Nico Photos
Drums: Isaac Watts

The Source, which was originally known as The Disenchanted, is an acclaimed local rock band that can be seen playing at popular hotspots such as The Troubadour and The Roxy. The band has been together for many years, and though they have gone through many members and a name change, the remaining four still hold their own and make a strong team. The Source is a progressive rock band, the influences including The Beatles, Pink Floyd, Rush and Dream Theater. Aaron Goldich, the lead vocalist, writes the majority of the band's lyrics, most of them "inspired by nature beauty." Bridges is a particular song the band is most proud of, calling it amazing as it contains "two guitar solos that kick major booty." The dedicated members of The Source enjoy spending time together, whether its "performing in front of huge crowds", or just hanging out at the happiest place on earth, Disneyland. Currently, the band is working on a demo and promoting their first album, which is available on iTunes. The Source assures VHS that "Music will always be a main aspect of our lives", and Isaac Watts would like to add, "If you haven't seen our shows yet, you should totally go to one."

LA LEATHER

Lead Guitar: Joe Garcia
Guitar: Elias Mcann
Lead vocals: Taylor Diambri
Bass: Cory Davis
Drums: Davin Hutchins

The dynamic L.A. Leather came together due to a common love of hard rock and Cory Davis' sideburns. The band picked their name because they found it "anti-mainstream and unlike anything else we've ever heard." L.A. Leather aspires to follow in the footsteps of their musical heroes Blacklabel Society, Godsmack, Rage Against Machine and Pantera. Currently, the band has been taken into the studio by W.B. and is working on their latest album. L.A. Leather has become more in tune with its identity, their lyrics reflecting personal experiences, as opposed to singing about "rock and roll and partying every night" as they once did. Looking back on their past, the band recalls an embarrassing moment that consisted of an anonymous band member "dropping sticks every two minutes because he only brought one pair." L.A. Leather refer to being in a band as being in a family, "We have our hard times, but we devote our lives to music and this band." The members of L.A. Leather feel music is their purpose, calling music, "the one good reason a 9 to 5 job in a suit is below living your dream and playing every night." When they are not performing on stage, the band members of L.A. Leather enjoy surfing, skating, and living by their mantra "Nice boys don't play rock and roll."

The Denizens, formerly known as End of Days, is an alternative rock band "with a tint of grunge", that has created a stir amongst the local band scene. The Denizens began as a few friends coming together to jam, but over the past few years, the band has broadened its horizons. The Denizens did exceedingly well at a Battle of the Bands held at the El Rey Theatre and can today be seen playing at renowned venues. The musical influences of the band include: Nirvana, The Shins, Muse, Cake, Alice in Chains and many more. The voice of The Denizens belongs to Robert Montenegro, not only because he is the lead singer, but also because he predominately writes the lyrics for the band. "I write about everything; from strange pseudo-narratives to meaningful." The Denizens are proud of all of the songs they have assembled over the years, but a recent band favorite is Ashes to Ashes. The members of The Denizens enjoy partaking in a band because it evokes "the interaction of sharing ideas and creating music together." When asked what it is about music that draws them in, The Denizens responded, "Music is important because it's a reflection of anything and everything." Outside of jamming, the boys enjoy going to the movies, playing super smash brothers and playing baseball, never skateboarding.

Senior Nicholas Hollingsworth picked up Sophomore Stephanie Sia from band practice and headed to Starbucks to begin their date. As Nicholas drank his caramel frapucino and Stephanie sipped her pumpkin spice coffee, they laughed, bonded and got to know each other and walked to the Albertsons near by. They browsed at the flower section and decided that although the flowers were pretty, spending $7 out of their $20 limit was not worth it. They headed to the candy section to satisfy their late night sugar craving while they danced in the aisles. As they exited Albertson's, they found free pumpkins and decided to pick one out. Stephanie decorated the pumpkin with a marker and they dropped it off at her friend's porch as a surprise. At the end of the night, Stephanie got dropped off at her house and they shared a friendly hug.

Freshman Matthew Frandson and Sophomore Catherine Herrick got very creative on their $20 date and had a great time just talking and laughing together. They made use of every free opportunity to try something new at the mall. Their first stop was Popcornopolis where they bought some kettle corn and rootbeers. After they walked around, one of the salesmen from a booth hounded them down and asked Matthew to try the new rollerblade product he was selling. Matthew put the shoes on and Catherine helped him skate around. Then they headed to Brookstone, to get free massages in the massage chairs. Catherine then spilled her drink, and they decided to leave the store as fast as they could. They went to BJ's and ordered a Pazookie to go then sat outside the Tae Kwon Do studio across the street to observe a class as they finished eating their dessert. They ended the night with a quick refill of rootbeer on their way out, and headed home.

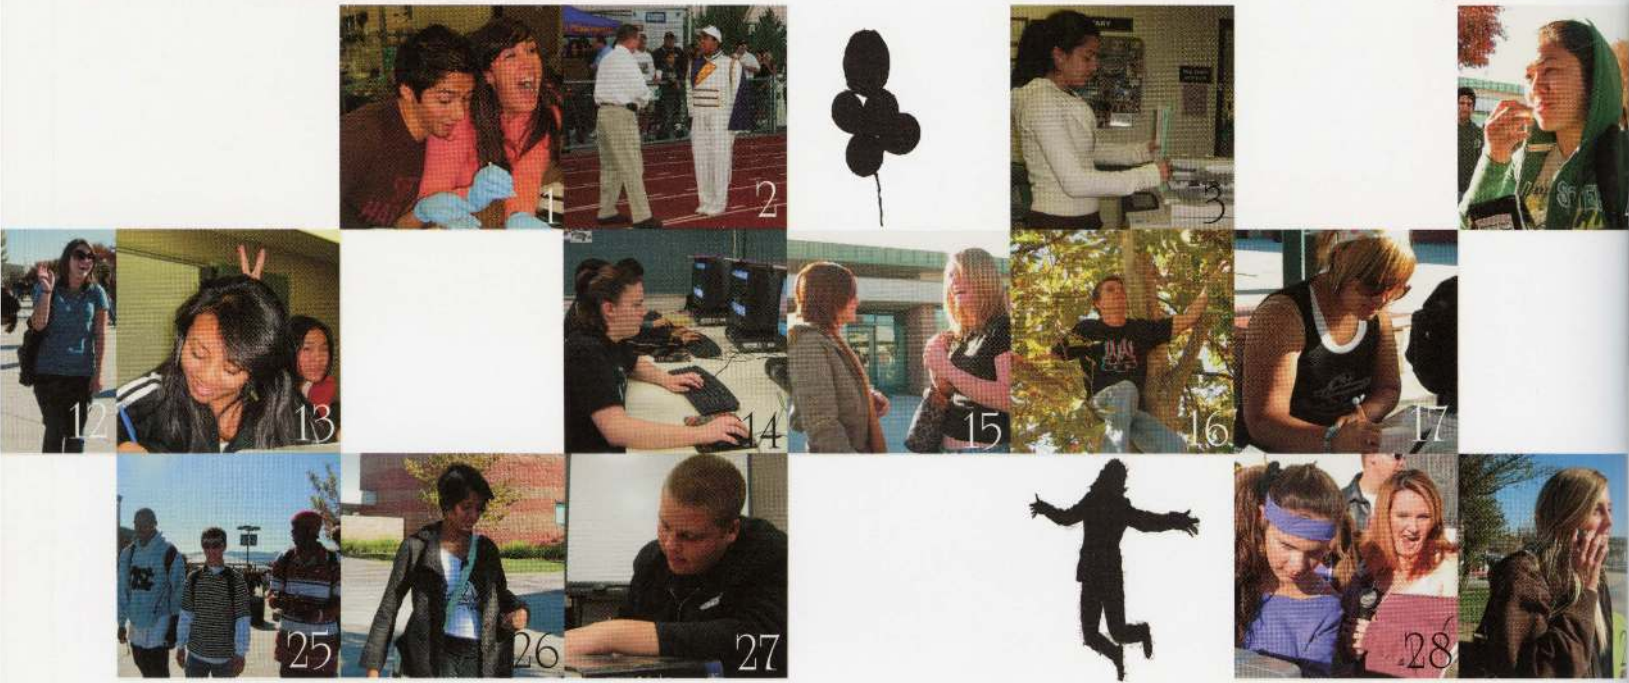

Michel Silva and Ahpaney Pinjanthuk

Seniors Michel Silva and Ahpaney Pinjanthuk made it their goal to not spend any money on their date. Because both Ahpaney and Michel have outgoing and fun personalities, the simple things they did on their date kept them laughing and enjoying themselves the whole night. Ahpaney invited Michel to her house, where they started their date by coloring a felt poster they found in her room that she started when she was in 8th grade. While they were talking about their friends and their senior year, Ahpaney's mother asked them to make some instant pudding for her. They went into her kitchen and had a great time pouring the pudding mix in the bowl and taking turns stirring it. Once they put the pudding in the refrigerator, they sat on her couch and ended the night by goofing around and making each other laugh.

Iris Fulgencio

Senior Iris Fulgencio has had many memorable moments at Valencia High School. She will never forget Charles Figueroa's trigonometry class when he inspired her to advance her skills in mathematics. Fulgencio would love to one day attend USC for its dental program and hopes to one day open her own practice. Fulgencio enjoys shopping for shoes, cooking and gymnastics. Fulgencio couldn't live without her family, especially her cousin Arlene. Arlene is her biggest inspiration because she has accomplished so much in her life and has never forgotten what she values most: family. Even though there are times when Fulgencio wants to move out, she just wouldn't be the same without her loved ones. Fulgencio feels she has experienced everything that high school has to offer, and would love to be remembered as "the short, intelligent girl with nice shoes" because she has always been seen as small and petite.

Chelsea Rockwood

Senior Chelsea Rockwood is an acclaimed photographer, her most famous works include photos of local bands such as The Denizens and Laundrymat Robbery. She aspires to take her photography to higher levels and someday become the next Rolling Stones photographer. Rockwood is often described as thoughtful, creative and silly; her dynamic personality shining through her photos. Rockwood would like to be remembered as "that cool photographer lady", an artist who pushed her limits and defied the traditional.

Apart from her passion for photography, she also enjoys sleeping for endless hours. Rockwood feels that she has accomplished much throughout high school, managing to get past the bad times. Rockwood will always remember meeting her wonderful boyfriend, Robert Montenegro, and seeing her friends on a daily basis. Chelsea Rockwood would like to tell all of the underclassmen that it will all turn out well in the end, just like it did for her.

David Torres

Though he is not active with sports or clubs, Senior David Torres is a familiar face around campus. To most, Torres is referred to as Shino because he resembles the Naruto character Shino. He is often described as funny and optimistic, a person who always has a warm smile on his face. "Life wouldn't be any fun if I couldn't enjoy making others laugh." His most cheerful memories at VHS include spending time with his close friends and specifically going on his first date with Jennifer Santos. After high school, he plans to go to college and study the culinary arts. Torres wishes to be remembered as a dreamer, one that dreams of endless ideas and possibilities. His words of advice for future underclassmen are, "Live life to the fullest, you never get a second chance." David Torres will continue to set an example for others by staying true to his motto, "Work hard, last long, stay strong and have faith."

Alejandro Zalvidea

Senior Alejandro Zalvidea came to Valencia High School hardly knowing any English, but now he is a well-rounded student and an acclaimed soccer player. To most students at school, Zalvidea is known as Jano, a name that originated from his housekeeper's daughter who could not pronounce his name. In the future, Zalvidea plans to follow in the footsteps of Ronaldinho Gaucho, his inspiration, because Gaucho is a professional soccer player who has made it through thick and thin, never giving up. After graduation, Zalvidea aspires to join the Argentina Soccer League and play professionally. However, he will forever miss his friends who stood by his side and helped him adapt to the American culture. He wishes to further be remembered as a fun, outgoing, competitive and charming gentleman. Zalvidea's advice to future class members is, "Never give up! Always do your best in school." Zalvidea's last words as a high school student are, "If life is not hard, why live it?"

Danielle Jimenez

Danielle Jimenez can be best described as athletic, determined and outgoing. She has participated in a number of sports including soccer, softball, track and field and swim. Jimenez plans on first attending Santa Monica College and then transferring to Loyola Marymount University to work towards an MBA in International Business. When Jimenez is not at school she loves to hang out with her friends and play sports. She can't live without her family and friends because they play a big role in her life. Jimenez's advice to underclassmen is to, "Do your best and not get sidetracked because you will regret it later on in life." She also recommends enjoying high school life because they are the best years and they go by too fast. Jimenez's biggest accomplishments during her years at Valencia were making it through all the sport's seasons that she has participated in and getting to her senior year.

Britnee Ryan

A few words to describe Senior Britnee Ryan would be bright, kind, artistic and hopeful. Ryan loves to shop, act, sing and read. She has been an active member of Drama Club and is now the head of the make-up and hair crew. She would love to one day open her own salon and spa and name it B. Marie. Ryan is currently attending Newberry's School of Beauty and will graduate with her cosmetology license shortly after receiving her high school diploma. Ryan has very limited spare time, but when she does manage to find some she loves to hang out with her friends or just relax at home. Ryan would like to be remembered as fun-loving and vibrant. Her most memorable experience while attending Valencia is the choir trip to New York. She will never forget the feeling of standing on the Carnegie Hall stage. Her last words as a high school student would be "At the end of every day, to have achieved happiness is to have achieved perfection and a wealth beyond all the riches of the world."

Travis Durant

Travis Durant is a man of many talents. He enjoys playing the guitar and keyboard, song writing and working on the computer. He has many accom-pishments including the acquired talent of avoiding redundant sentences. While at Valencia High School, he has developed a liking for many areas of study including sociology. He plans on studying them further in college, possibly out of state, even though the cost of living requires the loss of an "arm and leg." His most memorable experience during high school was when his friend called the Skittles company to explain how his friend fell off the rainbow. Durant values his friends as much as he values his great memories. As he leaves high school, he reminds all upperclassmen to remember that they were freshmen not long ago, so don't make fun of them. He would like to be remembered by all as a relatively understanding individual who is funny and witty.

Cameron Marks

What is one thing Cameron Marks can't live without? Humor. Without it, he would go insane. As he looks back on his years at Valencia High School, he says his biggest accomplishment is just surviving. Marks has participated in intramural football and is currently involved in the Pathfinders Christian Club. The thing he likes most about high school is the fact that everyone is different. Outside of school, he loves to drive, play the guitar and rap freestyle. Self-described as imaginative, he would like to be remembered as a good person. While at Valencia High School, he credits Michael McKee for helping and motivating him and his parents for inspiring him in his life, saying "They give me direction" when needed. His current goal is growing his hair "extremely long" while his long term goals are a family and piles of money. He plans on attending college after high school, possibly in Oregon or Washington. His last words of advice for Valencia High School students are "Mastering others is strength, mastering yourself makes you fearless."

Jay Valena

Jay Valena, a senior at Valencia High School, participates in all types of band activities including marching, jazz and symphonic band.

Valena plans to attend either Stanford or UCLA and major in music composition and biology. He aspires to become a stem-cell researcher and a professional musician. Valena enjoys hanging out with his friends and meeting new people at school. He would like to be remembered as the hard worker and a wonderful musician. Valena was inspired and motivated by Michael Mckee, someone who is very passionate about his job as a history teacher here at Valencia. Valena's greatest inspiration is his father; he accomplished so much through determination. Throughout his years here, Valena has won the National Merit Scholarship semi-finalist position and achieved an outstanding score of 2320 on his SAT.

Chao Ying Lo

After high school, Senior Chao Ying (Judy) Lo plans to attend Cal Poly San Luis Obispo or San Francisco State University. Lo is a well rounded student who is co-president of the Cool Kids Club and a member of Harry Potter Club, as well as the Baduck Club. In her spare time Lo enjoys writing fiction stories, reading fantasy novels, drawing, singing, playing the piano and flute, taking pictures and reading manga. Outside of school Lo participates in Kumdo, a type of Korean martial arts using a bamboo stick. Lo also takes every chance she can to hang out with her friends. In the future she hopes to become a professional artist and get married. Lo's biggest inspiration is her music. Lo hopes to move to England and then to Korea after she attends college. Lo says she couldn't live without her friends and hopes to stay close to them.

Amber Coyne

Amber Coyne is a spontaneous and outgoing senior who hopes to be remembered as a person who has touched someone's life by making an effort to help those in need. During her high school career, Coyne has been an active member of ASB and also participated in both drama and debate team. Coyne aspires to attend SDSU or Sonoma State after she graduates to study medicine. Because she loves kids, science and helping others, Coyne hopes to become a pediatrician. She believes that the best part of her high school experience was meeting so many great individuals and she enjoys the memories of the school dances. In her spare time, Coyne enjoys hanging out with her best friends at City Walk, watching movies and having a good time at Disneyland. She would like to thank Robert Zamoski for teaching her so much about essay structure and Vincent Ferry for helping her master the art of event coordination. Her most memorable moment in high school was being able to watch Valencia beat Hart during her sophomore year. Coyne heads toward a new chapter in her life as she remembers her high school years. "During my years at Valencia, I have discovered who I am, where I am going and who my true friends are. I couldn't ask for more."

Curtis Thompson

Senior Curtis Thompson, a positive and musically talented student, plays guitar, drums and bass. Thompson is currently devoting much of his time playing with his band, Verfallen, and recalls his most memorable moment at school when he participated in the guitar battle during his junior year. He plans to succeed as a musician by attending the Musician Institute to study music for two years and transfer to a university to continue studying music. Thompson believes that Joseph Marcucilli has been a great influence on him by always keeping him interested and motivated. Marcy Calnan also made an impact helping motivate him during his senior year. Thompson's close friends would describe him as an easy-going, cool person to be around and he would like to be remembered as simply a person who had a positive attitude about life. The best part about Thompson's high school experience was his opportunity to find people with common interests and he encourages underclassmen to "try and make high school worth it for yourself because you only live it once." As he graduates from Valencia High School, Thompson looks into a bright future as he pursues his goal of becoming a successful musician.

Marisa Sanwo

Senior Marisa Sanwo, an outgoing member of the 2007 graduating class, aspires to attend UCLA. At UCLA, she plans to support her favorite team, the Bruins, and pursue a career in Dermatology. She chose this particular field of study because she wants to make a positive impact on people's lives and be remembered for helping others. Aside from her interest in medicine, Sanwo also enjoys singing, reading, shopping and visiting the happiest place on earth, Disneyland. Her family and friends often describe her as independent, huggable and unique. Sanwo would like to be forever remembered by her graduating class as a good person, one who always took advantage of every opportunity that came by. She will never forget her close friends that helped her along the way, nor will she forget the memorable experience of taking part in the Every Fifteen Minutes program. Sanwo's last words as a Viking are, "Cherish the time you have to spend in high school because there is so much to discover about yourself while you're here."

Steven Novak

Senior Steven Novak is known by his peers as loyal, funny and energetic. He is a renown tennis player and a prominent member of Key Club, NHS and CSF. In the future, Novak would like to attend UCLA or Stanford University in order to study political science. He aspires to one day become a lawyer and help others in need. Novak's biggest inspiration is his parents because they are both successful people and live virtuous lives. At Valencia, Novak creates endless memories and enjoys every moment of his high school career. He remembers making hilarious videos for group projects and hanging out with friends. Novak would like to be remembered as being a fun and nice guy who would do anything to help someone out. He wants his last words as a high school student to be "Work hard, have fun and don't regret anything."

Michel Silva

When asked to describe himself in five words or less, Senior Michel Silva replied with loveable, caring, funny, happy and random.

In his spare time, Silva enjoys composing and playing music (he plays both guitar and drums), sleeping and going to the beach to improve his surfing skills. After high school he plans to stay in California and go to UCLA School of Law. Silva hopes to major in law and minor in music and foreign language. For as long as he can remember, he's wanted to become a lawyer, but also wishes to be a musician, a writer, an artist and a model. The things Silva could not live without and would not be himself without are his love and passion, music and chocolate. In his four years here at Valencia, Silva has been motivated and helped by each and every one of his teachers and is currently a member of The Beach Club, A Better You Club, Rasta Club and Deca Club.

Jennifer Loring

Triple threat Jennifer Loring, who can sing, act and dance, is active in Drama Club and the theatre department. Loring, who describes herself as an Asian Queen Latifah, enjoys hiking, finger-painting, rocking out to music in the car and breathing and hopes to study acting in New York after graduating high school. Two of the most inspiring and influential teachers she has had are Joni Stiman, from whom she has learned much and appreciates greatly and Stephen Whelan, who has helped her both as an actor and as a person and becoming like another parent to her. Her best memory from her four years here is the first time she got cast in a show and how ecstatic she was. Her advice to underclassmen is to not stress out about high school. Loring says, "It's not as scary as it's portrayed to be and it's over before you know it." She also advises underclassmen to always "think outside their bubbles." When asked what she would do if she knew she wouldn't fail, she replied, "Who wants to guarantee you won't fail? Failure is what makes life interesting. It's what makes you stronger. Failure makes success important."

Caught RED Handed!

Have you ever been picked up by the golf carts?

"Yeah, Anne took me off road-ing with it! It was great! We drove around the 900's, up the hill and almost tipped over! Good times..."
-Joseph Arnold

"Sadly, I have never experienced the joys of riding in a golf cart."
-Emmanuel Mendoza

"Yes, those yard ladies can be reckless drivers and should definitely install seatbelts. Burt is the only good one."
-Jana Whatley

"No, but I thought about stealing one once."
-Brett Bateman

"Yes, we hit thirty on the way to the office."
-Brett Clark

What was the reaction you got when you were caught staring at someone and they noticed?

"They blew me a kiss."
-Matthew Higgins

"They looked at me, smiled, then cried."
-Matthew Grande

"They winked back at me and I went to sleep."
-Sean Maxoutpoulls

"They looked at me weirdly and told me to take a picture, it lasts longer."

The Choice is Yours

"I tried to turn invisible, but I couldn't control my powers back then. Now that I'm a Junior, I mastered them and all I have to do is show them my wallet."
-Lady Samson

"I didn't attempt, I succeeded."
-Christopher Rosenberger

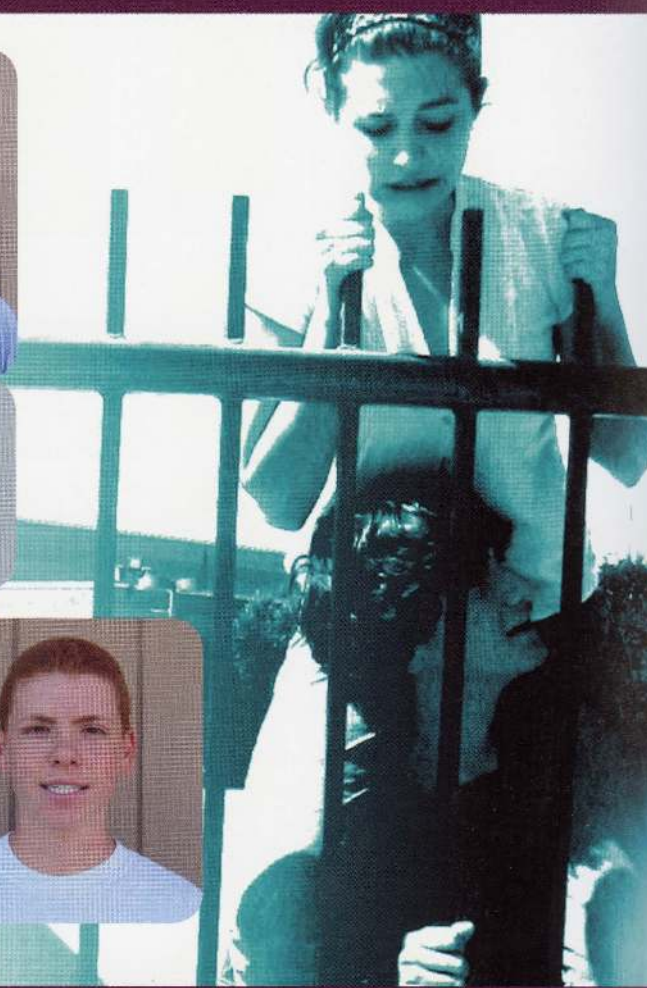

"I wasn't that desperate to get off campus, Valencia isn't that exciting of a town."
-Lani Jaimes

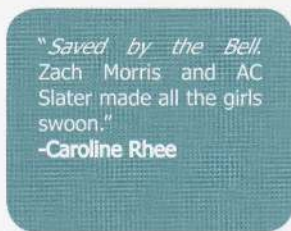

"I dug a tunnel with a spoon from the grass, under the gate, into the parking lot and ran for it."
-Layne Castro

"Yeah, note to all underclassman: giant catapult equals bad idea."
-Matthew Pollard

Boy Meets World or Saved by the Bell?

"Saved by the Bell. Zach Morris and AC Slater made all the girls swoon."
-Caroline Rhee

"Boy Meets World because Topanga sounds like Tapioca and that's my favorite pudding."
-Amanda Malfitano

"Boy Meets World because Will Friedle was hilarious and Mr. Feeny taught me everything we need to know about life."
-Michelle Flowers

"Boy Meets World because Eric is hilarious and Cory has a cute, fuzzy, curly head."

Laugh It Up

What's your corniest knock-knock joke?

"Knock, knock. Who's there. Norma Lee. Norma Lee who? Well normally I don't sell anything, but would you like to buy an encyclopedia?"
-Erica Fults

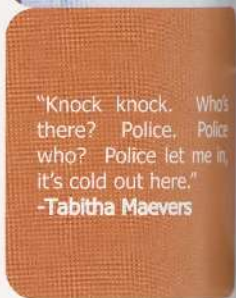

"I'm horrible at jokes, don't even ask."
-Rachel Jao

"It's not a knock-knock joke but, how did you get pikachu on a bus? You poke'em on."
-Jordanne Shelton

"Knock knock. Who's there? Police. Police who? Police let me in, it's cold out here."
-Tabitha Maevers

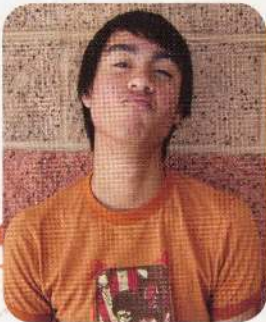

Have you ever caught yourself humming to elevator music?

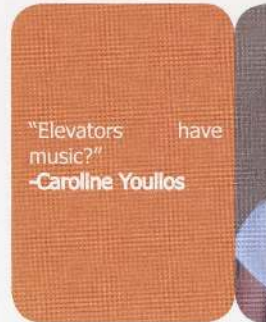

"No. I stick to elevators without music, thanks."
-Chand Fine

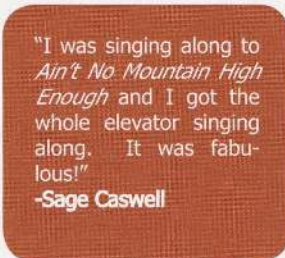

"Elevators have music?"
-Caroline Youllos

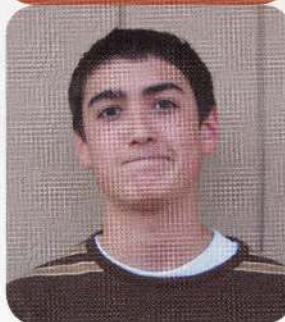

"I don't hum to elevator music, I sing to the song. In fact, I dance in the elevator and form a party. Actually I don't even know why I said that. That was a total lie."
-Patrick Davis

"I was singing along to Ain't No Mountain High Enough and I got the whole elevator singing along. It was fabulous!"
-Sage Caswell

"I hum to music all the time in elevators, grocery stores, wherever. Sometimes even when there's none playing but most people just smile, sometimes they join in."

SAY...

What is your favorite Disney Channel Original Movie?

Which Super Mario character would you be?

Which is more appealing, sunrise or sunset?

1. "Motocross because I was a tomboy when I was little and I always wanted to do boy stuff."

-Anastashia Chavez

2. "My favorite Original Disney Movie would have to be The Lion King because I'm the king of the jungle!"

-Christopher Guerrero

3. "My favorite Disney Channel Movie is Cheetah Girls because I like to get up and dance and sing to their songs."

-Austin Velga

4. "The red one?"

-Jomae Ofreneo

5. "Yoshi because he lays eggs, he has a long tongue and he makes a funny sound when he jumps."

-Erica Bonnette

6. "Mario all the way! He has a red cap, overalls and a mustache. What else can you ask for from a guy?"

-Joy Park

7. "Sunrise because that's when the best surf is! Yeah brah! Cawabunga dude!"

-Austin Gould

8. "Sunrise because of the bright orange sun fading behind the mountains."

-Katherine Walker

9. "Sunset because it's just a swirl of yellow, orange, pink and it's so beautiful and then it just goes into still, peaceful, darkness and all you see is the stars."

WHAT THE STUDENTS SAY...

If you were a candy bar, what would you be?

- 1. "I would be a Sour Patch Kid because first I'm sour, then I'm sweet."
-Nicole DelVecchio
- 2. "3 Musketeers... 45% less fat!"
-Stephanie Lee
- 3. "I would be a bag of Pop Rocks because I am full of energy and I can't sit still."
-Katelyn Wirtz

What was your favorite required English book?

- 4. "The Outsiders. It was so exciting and I couldn't wait to read more; it also touched my heart."
-Brittany Yukawa
- 5. "My favorite required English book was To Kill a Mockingbird because it teaches many important lessons and values. I also relate to Scout in many ways."
-Hannah Goldner
- 6. "My favorite English book is A Brave New World because the story was so fascinating with the way the present is really heading into the direction that Huxley was implying."
-Stella Chang

What was the worst movie you've ever seen?

- 7. "King Kong was pretty bad. It took way too long to catch the monkey."
-Gregory Drake
- 8. "Harry Potter. It's a soap opera soaked with magical emo love."
-Caitlin Looney
- 9. "War of the Worlds. It was so stupid, the aliens died from germs. Not exactly exciting."

GROSS OUT FREAK OUT CHILL OUT

WHAT THE STUDENTS SAY...

Have you ever found anything disgusting in your fast food?

Describe the perfect monster.

What magazine do you subscribe to?

1. "Yes, one time at Mission Burrito I found a fake eyelash."

-John Behle

2. "A piece of hair. It was worse because it was all curly and brittle. It was at Panda Express and I was drinking Pepsi when I spotted it, I burst out laughing and my friend was covered in rice and Pepsi."

-Alleen Kim

3. "At my elementary school, the food was pretty gross. There were hard chunks of things in the burgers and I found something living in a tater tot."

-Taylor Mesko

4. "My sister Natalia. She roars."

-Christiane Cordero

5. "One made of chocolate with candy features. I will defEAT him. Bahahaha."

-Jessica James

6. "The perfect monster? That's like an oxymoron. It's obviously not perfect if it's a monster."

-Stephanie Sia

7. "Dance Spirit. It's about the up and coming in the dance community and insights to the great performing companies and additions are the best."

-Giuliana Pietrolungo

8. "Japanese Music. I check the weekly Top 10 music to see which songs are good."

-Ayumi Takebayashi

9. "I subscribe to Surf magazine. It has great photos of guys surfing epic waves in the South Pacific and it has lots of new articles on surf spots and surf trips."

And Then... They Ripped

What is the most embarrassing thing that has ever happened to you?

1. "All the fifth grade classes went outside to play softball and there was a mud puddle right where the batter hits. I was up and when I swung the bat I slipped and fell. I was covered in mud." -Rozanne Kim 2. "Almost getting run over by a Pepsi truck after school." -Ada Navarret 3. "I held a random person's hand because I thought it was my mom's." -Gage Johnson 4. "I ripped my pants and then I laughed and put on a huge shirt." -Sean Davidson 5. "I was trying on a Halloween costume in a store and it was too tight and as I took it off, my shirt under it came off in the middle of the store. I frantically put my shirt back on and walked out laughing." -Leah Smith 6. "It was the first day of high school and I was standing in the registration line. I got out of line and went to ask someone a question and as I walked backwards I tripped into a trash can." -Veronica Arbogast 7. "My cousins bursting into song at Red Lobster when it was packed with people. I dealt with it by joining in." -Alessandra Caro 8. "On the first day of school, I got the wrong schedule, so I was in the wrong classroom until period four, then I finally exchanged my schedule." -John Hong 9. "The most embarrassing thing that happened to me was when I was in seventh grade and my legs were dry, so I thought that deodorant would take care of it. When I put it on my legs, my legs looked better. Then I walked out and my legs were white. Isn't deodorant supposed to go on clear like in the commercials?" -Mariah Bassett 10. "I mooned a car for 20 dollars." -Michael Proni 11. "I farted in class and blamed it on Joey." -Sean Sebel 12. "Kissing with my boyfriend, then he misses." -Elizabeth Escarez 13. "When my crush found out I liked him. I just ignored him." -Katherine Wong 14. "When I fell in a skirt in front of all of the boys on the basketball team. I got up and ran off and didn't bother looking back." -Armani Patterson

Looking Back

Do you keep in touch with your friends from high school? Are you planning on going to your next high school reunion?

1. "My school no longer exists; it was torn down many years ago, so I am a man without a high school."
-Joseph Marcuilli

2. "I don't go to the reunions because I'm not too interested in seeing everyone again."
-Marjorie Wagoner

3. "Yes, everyday. My reunion is this June, I can't wait!"
-Robert Waters

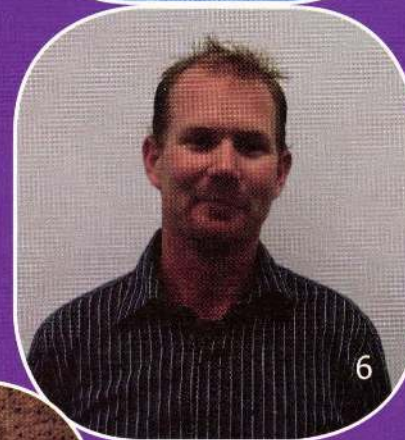

Do you still eat the cafeteria food?

4. "No way, that stuff will kill you. I don't even trust the coffee. I've seen a dead ant in the powder creamer."
-Charles Figueroa

5. "I have eaten the cafeteria food a couple of times, but I mostly prefer to eat protein shakes and energy gels for lunch. They help me keep my slim figure and rock hard abs!"
-Gavin Klinger

6. "Only when I'm desperate and dying of hunger."
-Kevin Burns

Do you feel there is too much of an emphasis placed on high school sports?

7. "Yes! The arts need more attention!"
-Kerry Strothe

8. "High School sports are extremely important! Exercise is just as important as book knowledge."
-Sherry Kunda

9. "Yes. I do not believe that clubs are given the attention they need."

Do you fear the principal?

1. "NO!"
-Chris Houser

2. "Yes. He's wonderful to work for, but its still scary when he wants to talk to you. Fear of the unknown."
-Rob Mandel

3. "When he calls me into his office I immediately run everything through my head, 'What could I have messed up on?' I then try to decide what he could have found out about."
-Marie Yagmur

What was your first job?

4. "I was a busboy at a restaurant. On my first day I had a customer ask me what a fly was doing in his soup. I told him it looked like the backstroke."
-Ed Rooney

5. "Babysitting - taught me I never wanted kids of my own."
-Marcy Calnan

6. "I worked at See's Candy and promptly got sick from eating all the candy."
-Steve Page

What was your curfew in high school?

7. "12:30. I loved it at the time, but I was NEVER late...not once!"
-Kathy Ferry

8. "10 on weeknights, 12 on weekends. I once came home after curfew with my sweetie and he leaned on the doorbell!...OOPS!"
-Carole Ivey

9. "After I was 16, I could stay out until 1 two nights a week."
-Marelyn McLaughlin

"I am very proud to have been your principal at Valencia High School during your high school career. You have all accomplished many great things in your four years here. I wish you the best of luck in your future. May your life prove to be rewarding and fulfilling."
-Paul Priesz

"Success is a journey not a destination."
-Ron Hilton

"Football is a game of ups and downs. We had a lot of downs this year, but we worked hard and learned a lot."

-Adam Bishop

Jordan Turbyfill

Senior Jordan Turbyfill started his football career 10 years ago after watching his brother Austin play when he was younger. Once he was old enough, Turbyfill started playing and has put in countless hours practicing and getting better. All of his effort paid off when he became a captain of the varsity team this year. Before a big game, Turbyfill sits in front of his locker and listens to a specific song on his iPod. After he graduates from Valencia, Turbyfill wants to play football for College of the Canyons. Turbyfill tells the younger players: "No pain, no gain. Your hard work will always pay off."

Michael Mauceri

Senior Michael Mauceri has only played football for four years, yet his hard work and practice gave him his greatest personal achievement: destroying Golden Valley High. He started playing football when he and his brothers played two-hand touch when they were younger. Mauceri has suffered injuries while playing football, including broken fingers, a broken collar bone and a slipped disk in his back. Even though Mauceri gets nervous before a game, he feels that the pressure helps him perform better on the field. He tells any Junior Varsity or Freshman player to "have confidence on the field."

Michael Hernandez

Sophomore Michael Hernandez has been playing football since he was six years old. Hernandez first started playing when he saw a sign-up booth for the local Popwarner team and his dad asked him if he wanted to try out. His inspirations are Steve Smith and Reggie Bush. He plans on playing for the UCLA Bruins in college. His pre-game routine consists of listening to his ipod and focusing on what he needs to get done on the field. Aside from football, Hernandez also plays basketball and plans on joining track. His advice for freshmen players is to work hard and play each game like it's your last.

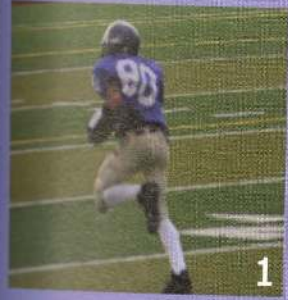

Jason Halliday

Freshman Jason Halliday has been playing football for six years. His inspiration is Brett Favre. The night before a big game, Jason hangs his helmet in his locker. He devotes about fifteen hours a week to football. His greatest sport achievement was beating Hart High School, 20-14. Other than football, Jason plays baseball and may try out for volleyball. His advice for younger players is not to burn themselves out on one sport, but take a little time off before high school. To him football is both a sport and a hobby because it is a huge time commitment, but it is also a lot of fun.

- 1. Run to the endzone. Freshman Zachary Tartabull scores a touchdown while playing Birmingham.

VHS: Varsity Cheer

Shannon Springer

Senior Shannon Springer has been cheering on the Valencia Cheer Squad for four years. Despite her rigorous cheer schedule which includes coaching a competition cheer squad, Springer manages to make time for school. Springer loves cheering at football games and performing at rallies.

Her favorite stunt is a back tuck basket because she can apply her gymnastic abilities to the stunt. She has been a part of gymnastics for many years and at any time can bust out a roundoff back handspring. Springer enjoys cheering at Valencia and would love to continue cheering after high school.

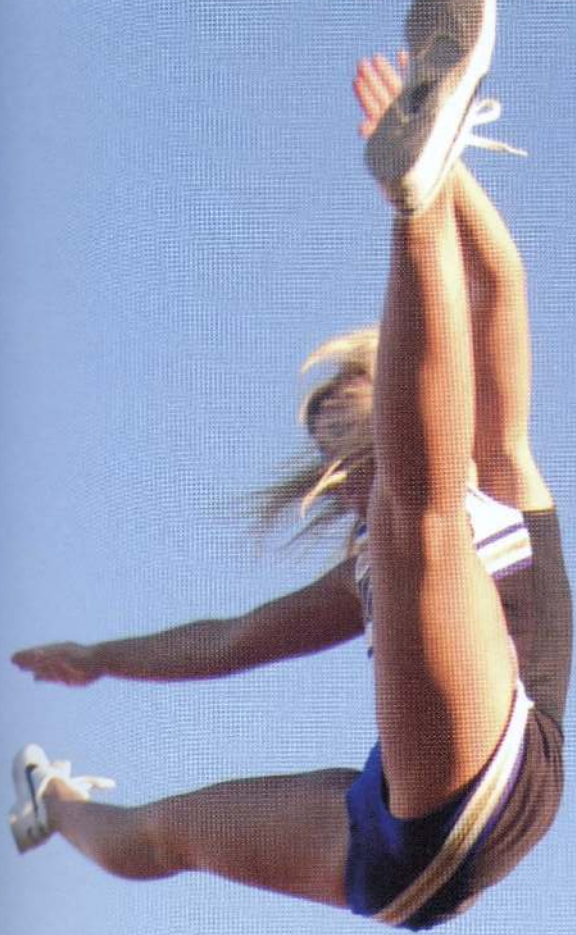

Melanie Miulli

Ever since Junior Melanie Miulli was a little girl, she wanted to be a cheerleader for Valencia High School. Miulli's favorite season to cheer for is football. She loves cheering for the football players as well as pumping up the crowd. She enjoys cheer because she gets to have fun with her best friends and work on her physical fitness. Her favorite stunt is a complex pyramid because she loves the way they look. Miulli doesn't plan on cheering after high school but is glad she is a part of such an awesome sport.

- 1. Keep it, up. Junior Ramsey Harvey stunts in an extension to keep the crowds spirit up.
- 2. How high can you fly? Shannon Springer hits a beautiful toe touch basket while she warms up.
- 3. Blast from the past. Jenna Lederer sticks a half in torch at the Blast from the Past rally.

"I love being on cheer and hanging out with all the girls that I have met and we get to do some pretty cool stunts." -Tatiana Meguerditchian Ragosta has been cheering for over four years and loves it because of the experience that she gets. She has been practicing gymnastics since she was eight, and the second she joined a cheer team she fell in love with it. Her friends and family have always inspired her and tell her, "If something goes wrong or you get hurt, keep trying and never give up." Ragosta believes that cheer is a sport because while other athletes are lifting weights, they're lifting athletes. She cheers over ten hours a week and plans to continue even after high school.

Melissa Ragosta

Katelyn Wirtz

Katelyn, also known as Katie, has been cheering at Valencia ever since her freshman year. Wirtz' older sister, who is also a cheerleader, has inspired her to work hard and have fun at the same time. Wirtz loves hanging out with her team and learning new stunts. She believes that cheer is an art but that you still work as hard as you would in any other sport. Wirtz cheers about eight hours a week and looks forward to it everyday because she can do what she loves with her friends. She says that her favorite part about cheering at Valencia High School would definitely be the rush she gets performing at rallies.

1. Head, shoulders, knees and toes.

Christopher Hernacki

Senior Christopher Hernacki is a very devoted and promising musician. Aside from performances and rehearsals he practices two to three hours every day on his own. Hernacki plays several instruments including bass trombone, euphonium, tuba and trumpet. He joined the Valencia High School band because of his love for music. Before each performance he warms-up, so he can play at his highest level, giving the audience the opportunity to enjoy the music. Hernacki has won multiple awards and recognitions including membership in the CBDA All-State Honor Band and the SCSBOA Honor Band. His advice to new musicians is, "Follow your heart and don't give up."

Leeanne Goodrich

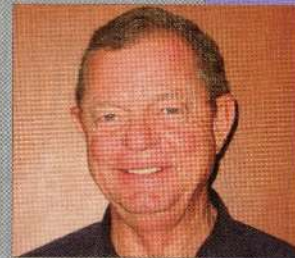

Junior Leeanne Goodrich has devoted most of her time and effort in playing in the Valencia High School band. Goodrich takes part in concert and jazz band playing both the flute and the alto saxophone. Reflecting on high school, one of her fondest memories is playing the "Flute Hokey Pokey" with her bandmates. She was inspired to join band at the recommendation of her father, who had been in band during junior high school. A band moment that stands out the most to her is when she got the hiccups while playing and could not stop laughing at herself. Goodrich no longer gets nervous when she is performing, like she did when she was first starting out. "Its no big deal and is bound to happen."

Jasmine Young

Junior Jasmine Young has been on Flag team for two years. She is the co-captain of Colorguard, and she views the sport as both a job and a hobby. If it were not for the flyer she found her freshman year, she would have never thought about joining the team. Young devotes every weekday morning, Tuesday and Friday nights, even Saturdays to the sport. However, she still finds time for NHS, CSF and tutoring. Young hasn't had any major injuries from Flag team, but she does get several bruises on her wrists. Sometimes she even gets hit in the face with rifles and flags. The best advice she can give to future Colorguard members is to practice, practice, practice.

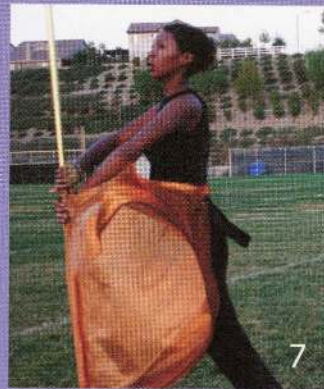

Katherine Fundora

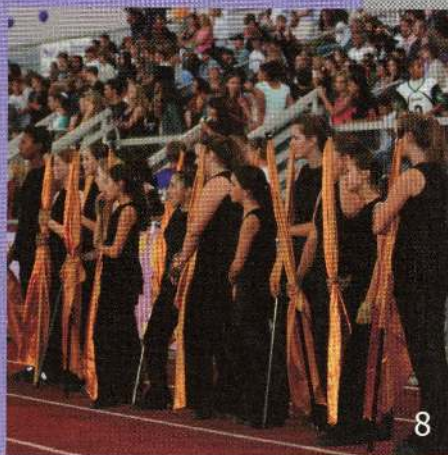

Freshman Katherine Fundora loves all the excitement the team offers. Fundora says that both her captains, Hayley Ridenour and Jasmine Young, inspire her to try harder. She also says that the team motivates each other before a competition by going around in a circle and saying something encouraging to one another. Fundora first started thinking about joining the Flag team when she was in junior high and she saw how much fun it was to perform at halftime football games. She says that she doesn't get nervous, but she does get really excited. Fundora is also involved in the golf team. Her words of advice to future Colorguard members is to practice, smile and work hard.

1. Pump it up. The flag team performs at the football games to show their school spirit. 2. Golden girls. Freshmen Meaghan Ridenour and Taylor Watanabe finish their routine with pride. 3. VHS: Dance Team

"For the past couple of years, being on the Valencia Dance Team has been amazing. The girls are all nice and I love dancing with them. I can't wait for the next two years!"

-Sarah Chun-Hoon

Caitlin Kube

Junior Caitlin Kube started dancing in first grade and in eighth grade she joined the dance team at Arroyo Seco Junior High School where Kube received the nickname "FO," because she always danced full out. Kube has been on the Valencia Dance Team for three years now. Her favorite part about being on the team is making new friends and performing on stage because she feels as if she's telling a story with her body. It's been three years since she presented her solo, after which she cried because she had forgotten part of the choreography. This experience taught her to do her best and practice as much as possible. Kube now dances twenty hours a week to gain more experience and become a better dancer.

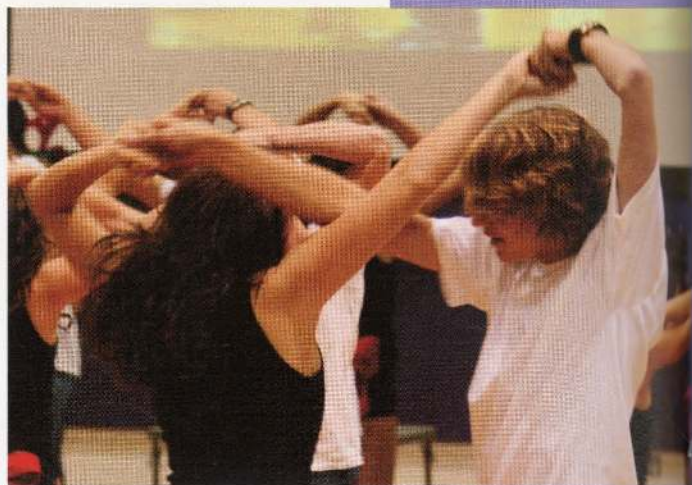

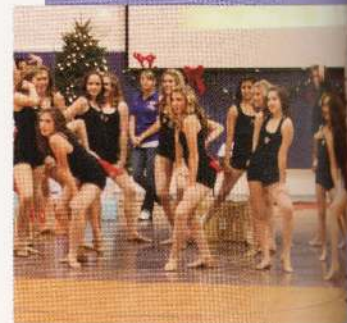

Laura Greenwald

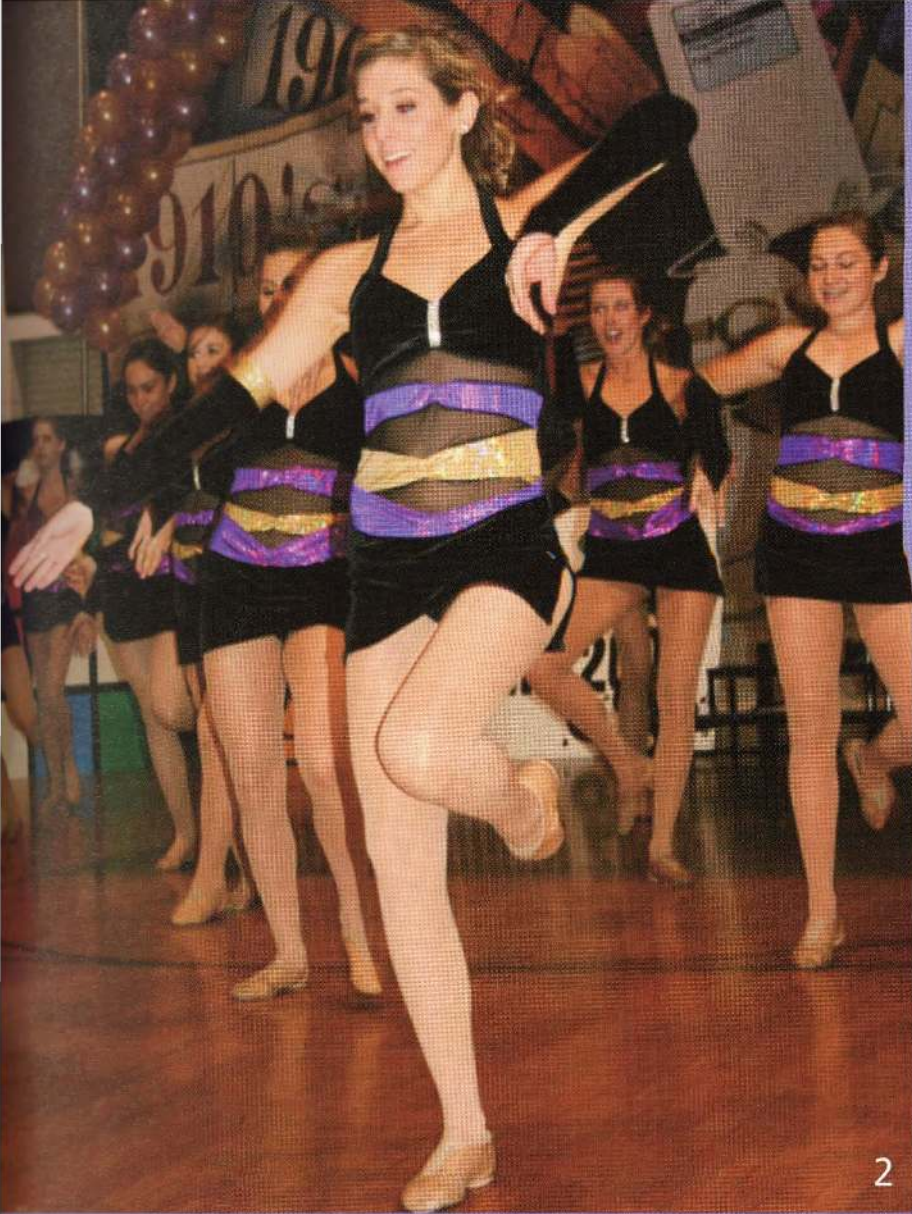

Senior Laura Greenwald has been on the dance team since her sophomore year. Her favorite part about being on the team is the ability to dance with her friends. "I love dancing with a bunch of girls who are like sisters to me and share the same passion."

When Greenwald performs, it gives her an adrenaline rush. Her biggest achievement so far is being made a team captain. "I felt proud of myself, excited and nervous. I knew it would be a challenge with myself and Alex as the only seniors, but I knew we could do it." Greenwald enjoys watching other dancers perform in different shows, which inspires her to dance to her full potential. She is fully committed to her work and dedicates most of her time to the dance team.

1. A rockin' and a rollin'. Freshmen Sierra Gordon, Alexandra Chernos, Christine Spengler, Rebecca Herd and Brittany Bayley get together for a break after an upbeat fifties routine. 2. All eyes on me. Senior Alexandra Mezo dances her heart out with a wide smile during a performance. 3. Spread a little cheer. The team gets dressed up in their holiday attire for their outstanding routine presented at one of the many rallies. 4. Dance with me. Juniors Gabriella Angulo and Ryan Criss dance together in an electrifying routine performed at a rally.

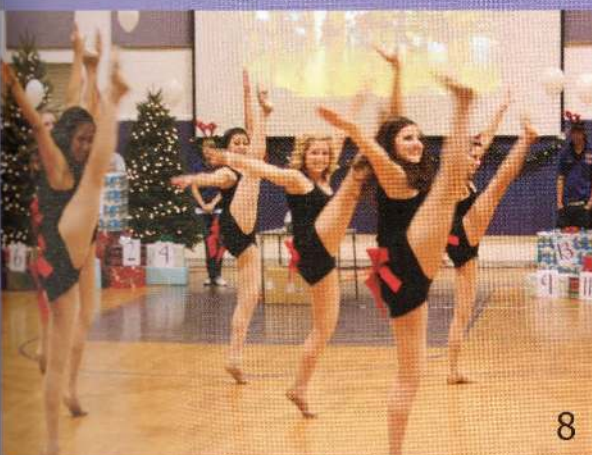

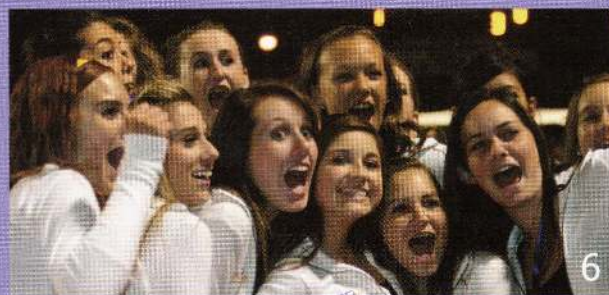

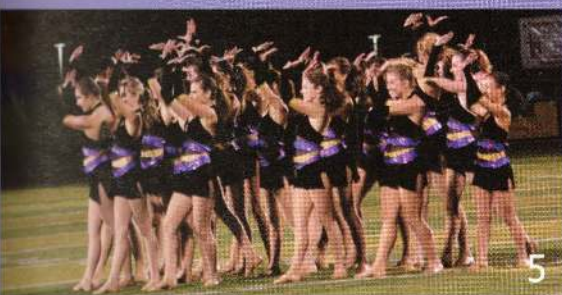

5. Put one foot in front of the other. Dance team knows how to put on a show as they perform during halftime to pump up the crowd. 6. Say it loud, say it proud. Junior Caitlin Kube, Sophomores Catherine Herrick and Morgan Dykes, Junior Racheal Giron, Sophomores Alexandra Skorniakoff, Lindsey Lang and Kirsten Linskey have fun after a performance. 7. VHS: Cross Country

Anastasia DiGiallonardo

Junior Anastasia DiGiallonardo, a very devoted cross country member since her freshman year, loves cross country because it is both a team and an individual sport. She and her team have become like a family; one of her main inspirations is her team, especially the Varsity Girls. They inspired her because she was the second girl on Varsity and halfway through the season was injured, causing her to be out the rest of the year. Despite her injury, the girls showed their strength by making it to CIF for the first time in school history. Though she missed the last few races, her best race was Woodbridge Invitational where she ran the three-mile race in 19 minutes and 36 seconds. DiGiallonardo is also on the track team and enjoys photography, fashion and music. She plans to attend an art school and is considering Brooks Institute of Photography, FIDM and Academy of the Arts University where she would love to run competitively but will run on her own if there is no team to join.

Alejandro Ricardo

Senior Alejandro Ricardo joined cross country in his senior year because he loves challenging himself and the fact that running is not just about being physically in shape but also mentally in shape. He also enjoys playing soccer and hanging out with his friends. One person who has inspired him is Monique Palmera: "I love her, enough said." One event he did really well in was their final race, although his favorite race was the Stanford race. To him, the most rewarding part of cross country was learning to push his limits. At times he finds it difficult to balance cross country and school, though for the most part he manages well. After high school, he plans to go to college and continue running; he says he will run forever.

1. Ready, set, go. The Valencia Cross Country Team waits at the starting line with teams from other schools, anxiously awaiting the start of the event. 2. He leaps, he soars. Senior Alejandro Ricardo flies through the air while running his event. 3. Gaggle of gals. A group of girls run their race with two Valencia girls, Kaitlyn Byrne and Laura Bloom, in the lead. 4. Driven. Mari Carlo Manzana paces himself in pursuit of the end of the race. 5. So close. Andrew Mayeda pulls through the last portion of his event. 6. Check out my "Blue Suede Shoes". Rella Kautianen focuses on the path ahead, keeping her mind in the race. 7. A head up. Lindsey Roark rounds a curve, ahead of a Hart runner. 8. Deanna Daglas

Junior Deanna Daglas has been playing on the Valencia High School Volleyball team since her freshman year. She had been playing soccer and joined the volleyball team for a greater challenge. Daglas' nickname, given to her by the other players, is "D". Her position is middle blocker, which gives her the opportunity to be involved in all the action. Her long time inspiration is Diva Kakonde, who is a middle blocker for women's volleyball at California State University of Northridge. The rest of the volleyball team will understand what Daglas means when she says, "Make your mile!"

Samantha Nazarian

Junior Samantha Nazarian started playing volleyball when she was just nine years old. She's been playing on the varsity team since her sophomore year. Nazarian is busy with Valencia Volleyball, club volleyball, California Scholarship Federation, National Honor Society and is a member of Assistees. Although it's hard to balance school and volleyball, she still seems to find time to have fun. For the past two years she's been playing for Valencia, Nazarian believes that her biggest accomplishment is defeating Hart. Her advice to the younger players would be to "never give up and always have fun."

1. Jump and spike. Senior Courtney Alberi leaps up to spike the ball and score against the opposing team.
2. Smack that. Junior Layne Castro makes a quick move to hit the ball pass the net.
3. Aim high. Junior Deanna Daglas reaches to block the hit from the competing team.
4. There's no "I" in team. The team gathers for a quick victory chant at a home game.
5. Just within my reach. Junior Taylor Kasha bump sets the ball back to the "5".
6. Double team. Sophomore Shelby LeDuff and Junior Deanna Daglas put up a double block hoping to close the gap.

Kayla Hritz

Sophomore Kayla Hritz has been playing since freshman year and plays opposite on the Junior Varsity Volleyball Team. Hritz's favorite part of being on the volleyball team is the friends she made. Her biggest accomplishment this year was winning MVP.

Her inspirations are her coach Harmony because she always had faith in her and Jayme Pinkowski because she always tried hard and never gave up! Her favorite aspect of volleyball is "hitting the ball with all that she's got" and getting a "kill" against their biggest rival, Hart. Before every game, Hritz and her team play jigalo to get pumped up and ready to win. Between volleyball and school, Hritz says practices tend to get in the way of homework. When she isn't playing volleyball or doing homework, she enjoys hanging out with her friends, talking on the phone and going to the mall and movies. Some words of advice she gives future volleyball players is "always believe in yourself, and if you're having a bad day, set that aside and shake it off."

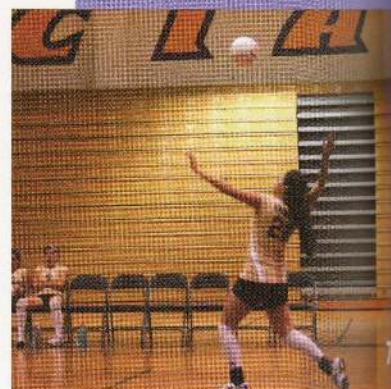

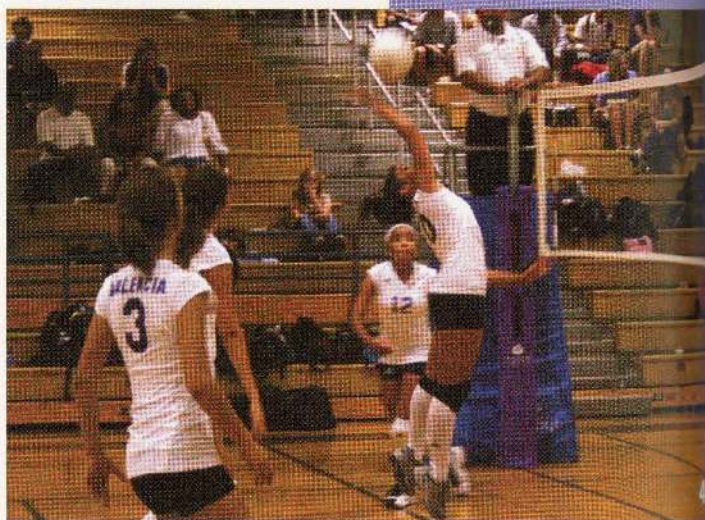

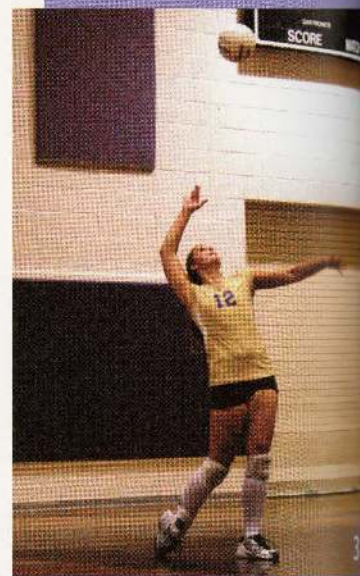

Erica Guzman

Freshman Erica Guzman started off her volleyball career this season on the Freshman Girl's Volleyball Team. Guzman plays opposite and outside hitter and looks forward to improving her abilities to help her team. She loves volleyball because it makes you work as a team and involves everyone not just one person. Before every game Guzman and her teammates play jigalo to pump each other up. After spending 10 hours a week devoted to volleyball, Guzman still finds time to hang out with her friends and family. Guzman was inspired by all the varsity girls and would like to thank her mom for encouraging her to play the sport. Guzman's advice to fellow volleyball players is "always work your hardest and never give up on anything."

- 1. Come on, let's go. Freshman Taylor Shifley warms up before the win against Hart.
- 2. Take it to the floor. Freshman Emily Cornelius contributes another point to the win against Golden Valley.
- 3. Let's get it going. Sophomore Katelyn Ward starts the game by serving against Westlake.
- 4. Bring it down. Helping contribute another point against Westlake, Freshman Erica Guzman hits the ball to the floor.
- 5. Block central. Freshmen Taylor Sunderman and Austyn Cuccia block the volleyball against Hart.
- 6. Serve it up. In the perfect serving position, freshman Jade Alma serves to Westlake.
- 7. Take the lead. Sophomore Bree Rosas serves the volleyball to Golden Valley.
- 8. Smack that. Sophomore Megan Lavo warms up her arm before the Vikings game against Westlake.
- 9. The starting line. As sophomores Kayla Hritz and Megan Lavo cover her, freshman Emily Cornelius gets ready to pass.

Richard Drake

Richard Drake's mom signed him up for soccer ten years ago and ever since he has been hooked on the game. Over the past ten years he has learned that being competitive plays a vital role in being a successful player. His driven demeanor is apparent as he is now on the All Foothill League playing as a first team defender. The friendships he has built have helped him realize that being a winner isn't an individual concept but a group effort. Visualizing winning helps him get pumped up for every game leaving him with a sense of accomplishment. Drake's advice to future soccer players is "Never give up."

Jonathan Schreiber

Johnathan Schreiber has been involved in different sports, including soccer, since the age of five. He is now currently captain of the Boys Varsity Soccer Team and also partakes in pole vaulting on the track team. Even with his busy schedule, Schreiber still finds time to manage a 4.0 grade point average. He has learned that "everyone has an important role to play." Schreiber feels the most important qualities of a soccer player are going about the game in a smart way and playing with heart. His best soccer moment is winning the playoff games after making several penalty kicks.

- 1. Team work. Sophomore Keenan Scalercio carries the ball up the field to set up a play.
- 2. We are the champions. Jorge Martinez, Bryant Iriarte, Johnathan Schreiber and Dan Walk hold a trophy for a tournament in which Valencia came in second out of twenty-four teams. The medals are three of the six medals handed out during the tournament.
- 3. Go for the goal. Daniel Guzman head-butts the ball into the goal.
- 4. Protect the ball. Daniel Palmer races up the field with the Alemany opponent at his side.
- 5. Throw in. Blake Sunderman throws the ball back in after it was knocked outside the sidelines by Saugus.
- 6. Team huddle. Coach Tony Scalercio gives the team a pep talk at halftime during the Valencia against Alemany game.
- 7. Anything you can do I can do better. Senior Richard Drake and the opposing team both leap for the ball.
- 8. Defense. Senior Brian Kent steals the ball away from an Alemany opponent.
- 9. Just a little closer. Jorge Martinez kicks the ball up the field trying to keep it away from a Canyon player.

“ I really enjoyed working with this group of kids because they worked really well together, were very focused and always gave a 100% effort.

Jeffrey Kandel

Playing right mid-field in soccer has been junior Jeff Kandel's life since the day he was four. Every week, he practices 10 hours and still finds time for school. In the little free time he has, Kandel enjoys talking to his friends, running and watching sports, especially the Lakers. Kandel joined the boys' soccer team as a freshman because he loved the sport. After high school, he plans to continue playing soccer on a college team. So far, Kandel's greatest achievement in soccer has been scoring the winning goal for his club soccer team, after which he felt great. His most embarrassing moment in soccer was running into the flag on the side of field while taking a corner kick. Before a game, Kandel always stretches and eats a banana to prevent cramps. Nicknamed Arsenal since his first year on the team, Kandel loves the fast-paced action on the soccer field and his advice to any soccer player is to work their hardest and do everything with energy.

John Wieselthier

Sophomore John Wieselthier has been playing since he was four years old and has since then grown to love the game. He has played for the Valencia High School Boys Frosh Team for two years and currently plays forward. His favorite part about soccer is scoring "because without goals you can't win." Wieselthier's greatest achievement has been scoring five goals in one game after which he felt incredible. In order to play his best every game, Wieselthier practices up to fifteen hours every week. While not playing soccer or doing schoolwork, he enjoys relaxing in front of the television, sleeping, hanging out with his friends and running on the Valencia Track Team. Before every game Wieselthier, also known as Wiesel to his teammates, warms up, stretches and then follows his own advice to all players: "Have fun and always try your hardest." After high school, Wieselthier hopes to continue playing soccer in college, possibly at Indiana University, which is his favorite college team.

1. Saved by the foot. Freshman Samuel Fleisher guards the Valencia goalpost in the game against Saugus.
2. Run Forrest. Run. Sophomore Jonathan Souisa chases the ball upfield closely followed by a Saugus defender.
3. I've got your back. Freshman Nicholas Ferry and Sophomore David Dunkel give each other encouragement as they begin the second half.
4. Heads up. In the game against Saugus Junior Jeffrey Kandel jumps into the air to do a header.
5. Bend it Like Beckham. Freshman Adam Eisen lunges to kick the soccer ball upfield towards the Saugus goalposts.
6. Good game. The Valencia High School Frosh Soccer Team shows their sportsmanship as they high five the victorious Saugus Team.
7. In the line-up. The entire frosh soccer team lines up before their game for a pep talk from the coach.
8. Break. The junior varsity soccer team breaks from a huddle at the end of half-time.
9. Flying leap. Sophomore Wesley Engel looks like he is flying as he prepares to kick the ball upfield.
10. Stretch and kick. Sophomore Ricardo Castro focuses on the ball as he runs forward to kick the ball to a fellow junior varsity player.

Kaitlyn Hollister

Senior co-captain Kaitlyn Hollister has played on the varsity team since her freshman year. She joined the team because she loved the sport and wanted to represent Valencia. She started playing soccer when she was six years old, and since then has dedicated herself to the sport. Hollister's biggest soccer achievement has been increasing her skill level and mental strength over the last several years. She loves the intensity and will-power that is needed to play soccer. Hollister's advice to other soccer players is to always strive to work harder and get better; "They should never put their heads down or stop playing until the whistle blows."

Alyssa Triana

Freshman Alyssa Triana joined the varsity team because she loves the sport and enjoys playing. Triana first started to play soccer when she was seven years old and she practices about seven and a half hours a week. Her biggest soccer achievement was to be able to start on the varsity team as a freshman. Her favorite part about being on the soccer team is having the opportunity to play with older girls and play with a different group of girls other than her club team. Her advice to other soccer players is, "Always give 110% because you never know who is watching and never let anyone steal your dream."

- 1. Bring it in. Senior Danielle Jimenez hustles down the field back to her teammates before the game against Canyon High School.
- 2. Show me your moves. Freshman Alyssa Triana shows off her footwork at the Hart tournament.
- 3. Keep your eye on the ball. Freshman Nicollette Smith goes for the steal during Valencia's game against Canyon High School.
- 4. Gooooaal. Freshman Hannah Hicks and Sophomore Kelly Deckers high-five after Hicks scored the first goal of the game against Saugus.
- 5. Hands up high. The girls varsity soccer team say before every game "hands up high because that's where their level of play is."
- 6. Listen up. During halftime, Coach Sean O'Connell keeps his team focused on keeping the shots on frame.
- 7. Up, up and away. Goal keeper Brooke Gauvin sends the ball back to her teammates after diving to save the ball.
- 8. Keeping focus. Sophomore Kylie Trammell and Freshman Alyssa Triana shift towards the play on the counter attack against Golden Valley.
- 9. Counter attack. Sophomore Kelly Deckers fishes the ball out of center midfield towards West Ranch's defense.

Alexandra Boring

Sophomore Alexandra Boring has been on the Valencia High School Frosh Team for the past two years, and was named team captain this year. She started playing when she was six years old and since then has come to love everything about soccer including the running, scoring, playing and friendships she makes along the way. For the team, she plays right defense, sometimes holding midfield. Her greatest soccer achievements are winning defender of the year and beating her rivals Saugus and Hart. Her inspirations are Mia Hamm and all of her coaches because they each contribute a key trait that is essential to becoming a great soccer player. Her advice for incoming soccer players would be: "Practice, practice, practice! Never give up!"

Christianne Cordero

Sophomore Christianne Cordero has dedicated the past two years to being a goalie on the Valencia High School Soccer Team. Cordero started playing soccer when she was twelve years old. Her favorite aspects of soccer include the rush she gets when she makes a great save or the joy of beating her rivals. In response to winning the Las Vegas tournament, her greatest soccer achievement, Cordero states, "I felt like a champion." Cordero or "Thunder" as her friends call her, is inspired by her teammates because they work so hard and are extremely dedicated to the game. After high school she plans to attend Boston University while playing soccer and majoring in journalism. Her advice to future soccer players is: "Never give up when people are putting you down because that's your opportunity to prove them wrong."

1. She shoots, she scores. Freshman Megan Hayes kicks the ball to her teammate. 2. Hit the nail on the head. Junior Chelsea Boggio does a header into the net, scoring a goal for her team. 3. Follow the ball. Junior Chelsea Boggio chases the ball after a passing play. 4. Huddle up. The frosh team forms a huddle to listen to their team captain's inspiring words before their game. 5. Keep away. Freshman Kauri Perez attempts to steal the ball back during the frosh game against Agoura High. 6. Smooth criminal. Freshman Janey Thompson steals the ball from her opponent. 7. Guard it with your life. Freshman goalie Rachel Howell kicks the soccer ball away from her goal. 8. Ralph Anumba

Ralph Anumba has played basketball for over seven years. Anumba's favorite part of the game is putting on the Valencia jersey and representing his team. He also loves how intense the game can get and how the game can bring out a different side of people.

Anumba believes that his biggest achievement was making Varsity last year and the fact that he still gets time on the team with all the other seniors. Anumba is nicknamed "Rated R" because of his aggressiveness on offense and defense. After Anumba graduates, he plans to go to college and hopes to eventually play for a division one school.

Christopher White

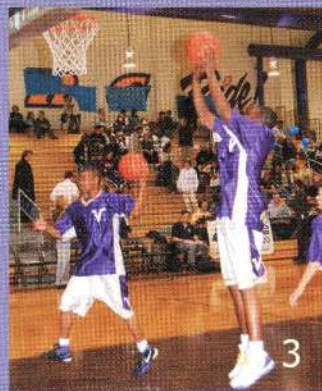

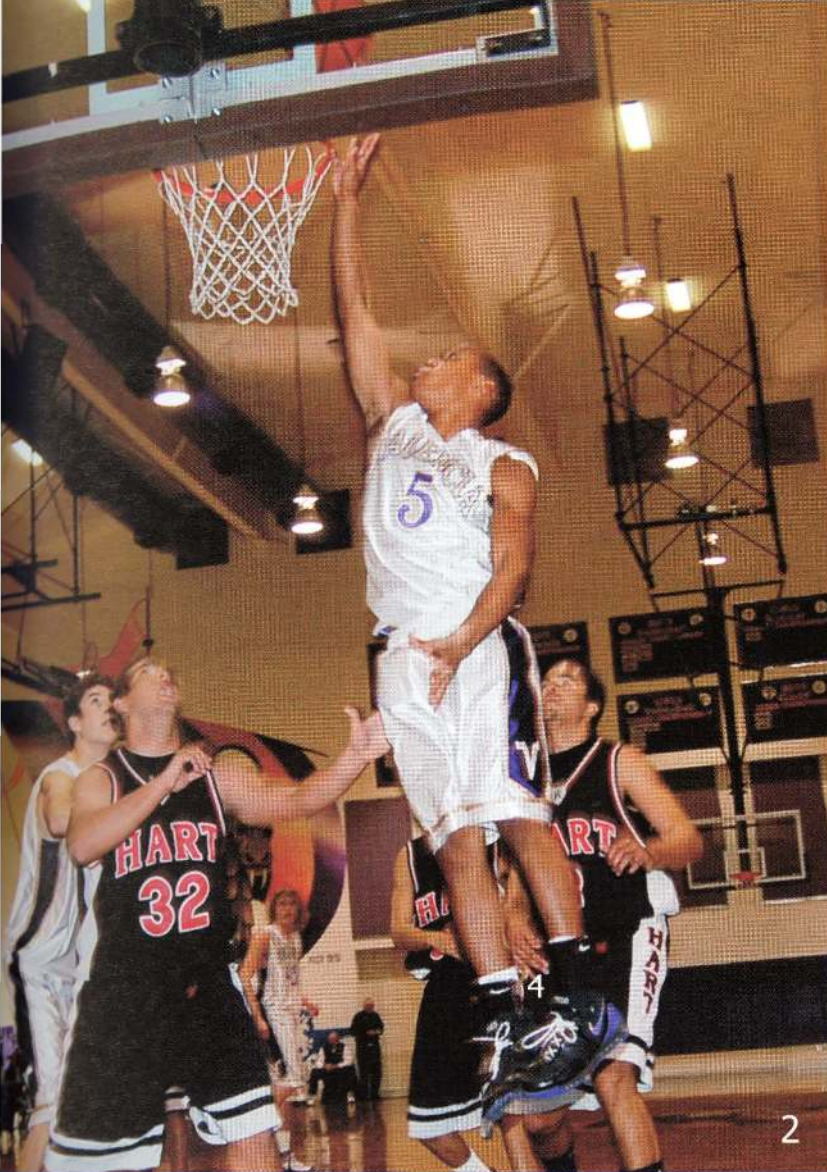

Inspired by his father and grandfather, White has played basketball since he was five. His favorite part about being on basketball is seeing the team succeed and hanging out with fellow teammates. White will play whatever position he is told to, but prefers either guard or shooting guard. Last year, White broke his leg during a game and has made an incredible recovery since then. If he could give advice to other players he would tell them to "Play your game, play heads up, play unselfish and always be ready for anything." White plans to play basketball for a long time whether it be competitive or not and hopes to attend Biola University in the fall.

1. Coming through. Junior Ryan Peters races past opposing players and throws an assist to his teammate. 2. Above the competition. Senior Shane Vereen shoots a lay up with ease against Hart. 3. He's just getting started. Sophomore Emmanuel Anumba warms up and practices his free throw shot before a game. 4. He's got hops. Junior Jake Piva practices his lay up during warm ups before the game against Golden Valley. 5. We're number one. Junior Brandon Thrush scores yet another point for Valencia. 6. Can't touch this. Nothing will keep Junior Ryan Peters from making a basket. 7. Swoosh. Junior Brandon Thrush successfully makes two free throw shots after being fouled by Hart. 8. Strut your stuff. Seniors Mickey Crockett, Elliot Asarch and Ralph Anumba run a lap around the gym to warm up before their first game. 9. Teamwork. Junior's Brandon Thrush and James Baughman work together to score points. 10. Try and stop me. Junior Skyler Seymour shoots a three pointer at a home game against Saugus.

Marco Morfino

Junior Marco Morfino, "the Italian Stallion", has been on the Valencia Basketball Team for all of his three years of high school. He really enjoys the challenge and competition basketball has to offer. When Morfino was chosen to be a captain, he felt very accomplished that all of his hard work throughout the years had finally paid off. In his free time, Morfino hangs out with his friends and plays sports. He is inspired by Kobe Bryant from his favorite professional team, L.A. Lakers. Morfino chose to join the basketball team because he admits that he is very competitive and loves to win. He has been playing basketball since he was five years old and practices at least ten hours per week. Before games, Morfino concentrates on what he needs to do to help his team win. The advice that he gives to other basketball players is to always be determined and to work hard all of the time.

Aaron Spargo

Freshman Aaron Spargo first participated in basketball when he was in the fourth grade. Spargo was given the nickname "Big Bird" because his favorite thing to do on the court is to perform a slam dunk over somebody's head. Spargo admits that he finds it hard to balance his school work with basketball, but does it everyday. Spargo plans to go to college and make more friends there after high school. There are many different pre-game routines such as a team chant, but Spargo says it works to kiss the bottom of both of his shoes. Spargo's most embarrassing moment was when his pants fell off and he was standing on the court in his boxers. The advice that Spargo gives to fellow basketball players is not to take it too seriously and not to be too hard on yourself if you lose, as long as you do your best.

- 1. One handed beauty. Sophomore Olatokunbo Oshodi makes a one-handed driving lay-up shot during the Valencia vs. Saugus game.
- 2. Hanging off the rim. Sophomore David Stroud makes a slam dunk and hangs off of the rim as his teammates watch while they warm up.
- 3. Up, up and away. Sophomore David Stroud goes for a lay-up and makes it against West Ranch.
- 4. Don't cross the line. Freshman Tanner Tredick goes for a hook shot while he makes sure not to foul his opponents.
- 5. Pow-wow. The Freshman Boys Basketball Team performs their chant right before the Valencia vs. Canyon game.
- 6. "Dodge" ball. Freshman Ryan Russ prepares to make a basket as he dodges the Canyon defenders.
- 7. Triple threat. Sophomore Cole Gauthier goes for the shot while being triple teamed by Saugus players.
- 8. Swoosh. Everyone watches as Sophomore Michael Devore swishes his first free throw shot of the Valencia vs. Saugus game.
- 9. Reach for the sky. Sophomore David Stroud easily wins the ball at the first tip-off of the Valencia home game vs. Saugus.

Charise Hall

Senior Charise Hall has been playing on varsity for four years. Her favorite aspect of basketball is the feeling she gets after she blocks someone's shot. Her greatest achievement was receiving a full scholarship to CSUN. She was very excited and felt like she had achieved her childhood goal. Hall's role models are her older brother and Magic Johnson. She joined the basketball team because she had been playing since she was little and wanted to be with her old teammates and opponents. After high school she plans on playing in college and wants to make a name for herself. After college she plans on playing overseas. Her advice for future players is: "Only play the game if you enjoy it and don't let anyone take away your love for the game."

Kathryn Meyer

Senior Kathryn Meyer has been on the team for four years, two of those years have been on varsity. Her favorite part of playing basketball is having a good time with the girls. Her biggest basketball achievement was getting the all tournament player in The High Five Classic Tournament. She was very proud and excited. In her free time, Meyer enjoys spending time with her friends and making people laugh. Her role model is Diana Taurasi. She joined the basketball team because she loves the game and likes being with a group. After high school she plans on playing basketball at the College of the Canyons. She started playing basketball in fifth grade when she was ten years old. Meyer's advice for other players is: "Times may be bad today, but tomorrow will be better."

1. Stay on your toes. Senior Christina Tantoy gives it her all as she plays defense on a Canyon player. 2. In and out. Junior Chelsea Hastigan weaves through Canyon players to get to the basket. 3. Straight at the numbers. Junior Chelsea Hastigan chest passes the ball to Senior Brooke Sansone. 4. Out jump them. Senior Stephanie Moore reaches up and grabs the rebound. 5. Get that rebound. Everyone makes their way to the hoop to get the rebound as a Canyon girl shoots the ball. 6. Slide your feet. Senior Allison Ceppi blocks an attempted pass from a Canyon player. 7. Out of this world. Senior Danielle Jenkins amazes the crowd as she shoots a perfect jump shot. 8. Be aggressive. Senior Charise Hall and a Canyon player jump for the ball at the beginning of the game. 9. Hit the square. Senior Allison Ceppi goes up for a layup.

Jaqulyne Gibson

Freshman Jaqulyne Gibson fell in love with the game of basketball at the age of seven years. "Jack-attack", as her parents call her, joined the basketball team for her love of the game. She now practices at least twelve hours a week on improving her skills. Before every game she listens to upbeat songs to get warmed up and ready for anything and everything. Gibson finds it challenging to balance her grades and basketball, but she finds that it is always worth the extra effort because she loves the game. In her opinion, her greatest basketball achievement is being an overall more aggressive player. Gibson's greatest role model in basketball is her dad because every time she plays, he motivates her and helps her keep moving forward. Her advice for future basketball players is "keep thinking positive because it is the best sport in the world."

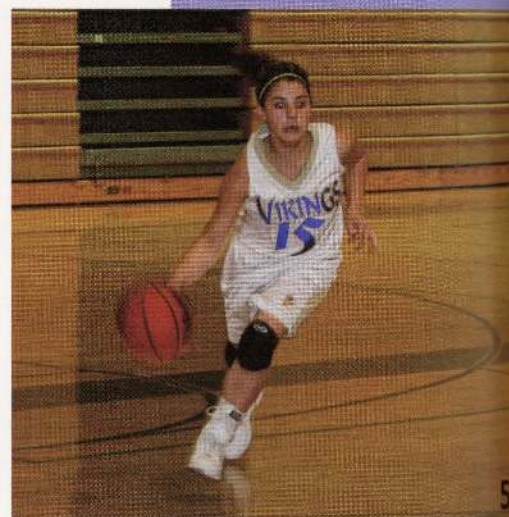

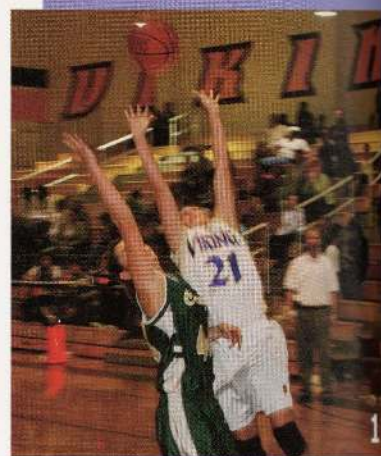

Amy Moore

Sophomore Amy Moore was only six when she first played basketball and has now been on the Junior Varsity Girls Basketball Team for two years. Every week she devotes more than twelve hours to practicing. Moore is also a member of the Girls Varsity Softball Team and the 184 Gold Choppers-Travel Softball team. Moore joined the basketball team in order to improve her speed for softball, but she began to love it just as much. Her role model in basketball is her older brother because he has taught her everything she knows about the game. Her advice to future basketball players is to "stay in shape or you will die!"

- 1. Reach for the stars. Freshman Arianne DeJesus jumps in the air over her opponent to stop the ball.
- 2. To infinity and beyond. Junior Lelani Bernadino passes the ball to a teammate during the game.
- 3. Push it to the limit. Freshman Jaqulyne Gibson shoves past the opposing team to pass the ball.
- 4. Run as fast as you can. Junior Tiffany Olega runs down the court for a quick shot at the basket.
- 5. Down the court. Freshman Madison Lanc dribbles down the court to the basket.
- 6. Stretch out. Freshman Alexis Cherney closely guards her opponent to prevent her from passing the ball.
- 7. Sink it Vikings. Yvonne Sanchez makes a basket and ups the vikings score.
- 8. Guard the enemy. Sophomores Amy Moore and Danielle Cavanagh guard their rival from scoring.

Jack Zapala

Junior Jack Zapala has been on varsity since his freshman year. His favorite part about being on the tennis team is the competition and being able to hang out with his good friends. His greatest tennis achievement was winning the singles league prelims and going to the CIF singles' championships.

He was really excited and proud that all of his hard work finally paid off. As far as extracurricular activities go, he plays in tennis tournaments almost every weekend and has worked his way to being nationally ranked. His role model is his coach, who has been his life long friend, and has also played on the professional tour. His plans after high school are to either play in college or to become a professional. Zapala's advice for other players is to keep practicing and always fight to the finish.

Kevin Song

Senior Kevin Song has been playing tennis at Valencia High School for four years. Song loves playing tennis because he likes to play and compete against his friends. Song's biggest tennis achievement was winning the First Serve tournament in Torrance after which he felt a great sense of pride and satisfaction. Song practices an average of ten hours a week to get in shape and keep his skills razor-sharp. Before a game, Song yells and punches a wall to get frustration and anger out before a match so he is calm and collected. Song always tells new tennis players to work hard to accomplish their goals.

- 1. Get in position. Senior Kevin Song moves into position to hit the ball in Valencia's victorious match against Oxnard.
- 2. Backspin. Freshman Tyler Gottshall puts some spin on the ball in the match against Camarillo, which the Vikings won.
- 3. Serve it up. In the Vikings' winning match against San Marcos, Senior Andrew De Giorgio delivers a powerful serve.
- 4. Airtime. Junior Tosh Sivertsen jumps to hit the ball while playing at the net in the Viking's winning match against Oxnard.
- 5. Step into it. In the San Marcos match, Junior Matthew Kuratomi steps into his swing.

Senior captain Michelle Stock has been on the tennis team for four years and has played since she was ten years old. She is the number one singles player for the varsity team. Stock's favorite part about being on the team is the close friends she has made and her role model, Coach Anne Kellogg. Her favorite part of tennis is how it can be an individual sport as well as a team sport. Before each match, Stock listens to music, stretches and warms up. She practices up to eighteen hours a week during the season and seven while off season. In her free time she enjoys hanging out with the girls on the team. After high school, Stock would like to continue playing tennis at Cal Poly Pomona.

Monique Palmera

Senior captain Monique Palmera is the number one player for doubles on the varsity team and has been on the team for four years. When she was a freshman she played singles for junior varsity. She felt very accomplished when she was named the Number One League Doubles Player for two years in a row. In order to become so accomplished Palmera practices ten to twelve hours of tennis during the season. While not practicing Palmera plays tennis tournaments outside of school and hangs out with her friends. She would like to play tennis in college and continue to play after that. Her advice to other tennis players is to "enjoy the season while it lasts because it goes by really fast."

1. Viking Tennis. Coach Susan Amico shows off her jacket that says Viking Tennis. 2. James Ker

Junior James Ker has participated for the last three years in the boys' volleyball program here at Valencia. Ker's favorite part about being on the volleyball team is playing the sport he loves more than anything in the world. He began when he was thirteen years old with inspiration from his two older brothers and parents. One of Ker's biggest volleyball achievements was coming back from a two game deficit to win the CIF Championship in 2006. After devoting more than fifteen hours a week to volleyball, Ker still has time for homework and friends. He plays as an outside hitter on the volleyball team and loves getting a kill or block for that indescribable feeling. Ker's favorite college is UCLA where he hopes to be accepted to play as their libero. Before every game Ker listens to some music to pump himself up, preferably "MSA" or "Job for a Cowboy", "Norma Jean" or "Knights of the Abyss". Ker's advice for fellow volleyball players is to work on the fundamentals of your execution and above all have fun!

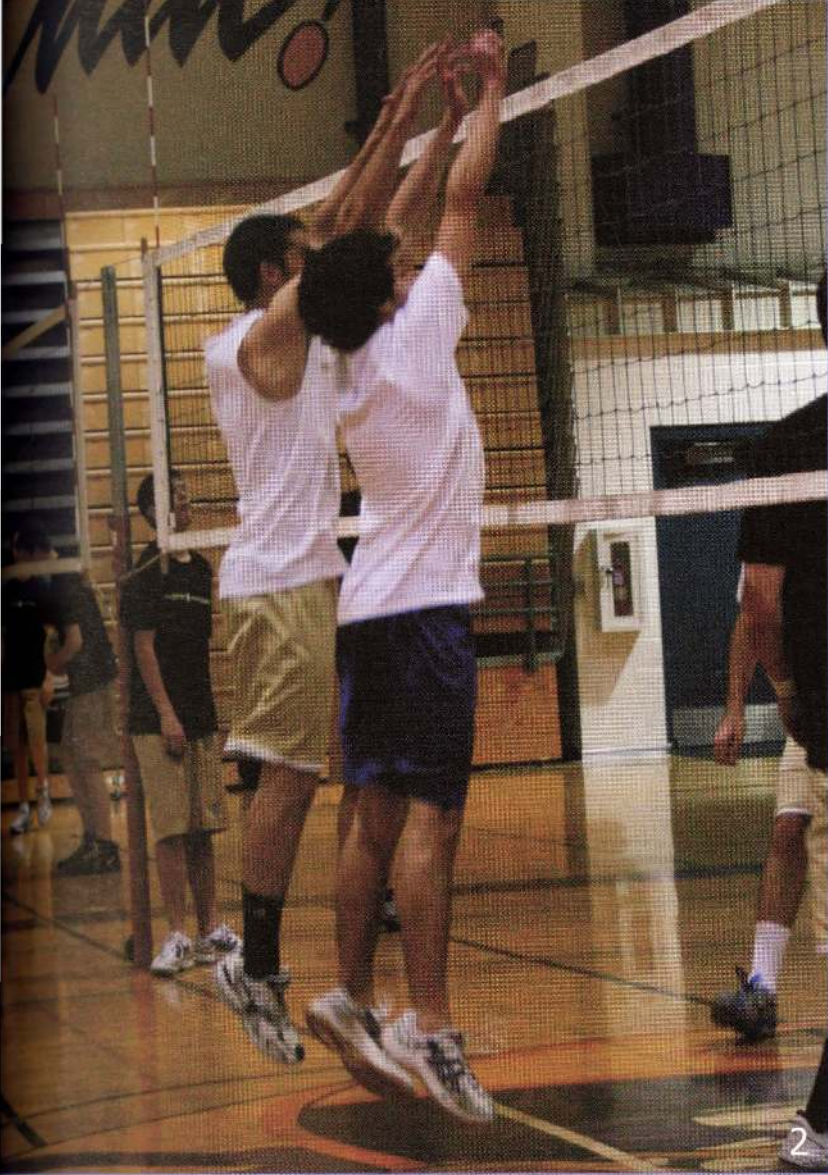

Jonathan Griffith

Junior Jonathon Griffith has participated in the boys volleyball program for three years. His favorite part about being on the team is winning and knowing that the team is going to be good. Griffith plays as one of the outside hitters of the team pounding it straight down anytime he can. Inspired by beach volleyball player, Karch Kiraly, Griffith spends about seventeen hours a week playing volleyball and is looking forward to attending UCLA after community college. After college Griffith hopes to travel to Europe and play professionally. Before every game he listens to "Job for a Cowboy" to pump himself up. For future players Griffith suggests listening to Coach Knudsen because he is a volleyball expert.

- 1. Aggression. Senior Michael Plaia makes the offensive kill for a point.

Zachary Feuerstein

Junior Zachary Feuerstein started playing volleyball when he was fifteen on the Boy's Volleyball Team. Feuerstein plays as the Junior Varsity setter this season assisting in most of the offensive plays. Devoting roughly fifteen hours a week to volleyball, Feuerstein also finds free time to hang out with friends and go to the beach to surf or play beach volleyball. One of Feuerstein's biggest accomplishments in volleyball was being announced MVP and named all tournament team at one of our own Valencia Volleyball Tournaments. While playing on the court Feuerstein was inspired by both his family and the Ker family. After high school he hopes to attend a college near the beach like Santa Barbara or Hawaii. Before every game Feuerstein eats the peels of numerous fruits and watches the same re-run of Boy Meets World to get ready. Feuerstein's advice for future volleyball players is to "yell loud at the games and stay classy."

Nicholas Ferry

Freshman passer Nicholas Ferry started off his volleyball career this season on the Boys' Freshman Volleyball Team at Valencia. Ferry's favorite part about being on the team is the aspect of fast and fun game play. Other than volleyball,

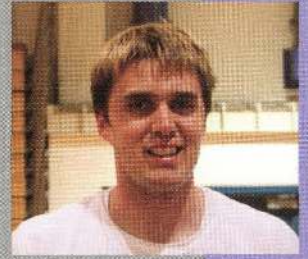

Ferry takes part in football and soccer. He started when he was eleven years old with his friends and, at the age of fourteen, he started to play in school. After giving up seven to eight hours to volleyball, Ferry still has time for his friends and homework. Nicholas is also known as "Tinkerbell" and his goal by the end of the season is to earn a new nickname. After high school Ferry hopes to attend UCLA or Oregon inspired by his friend's older brother, Adam Frandson, a graduate from Valencia. Ferry's advice for players is to "just have fun."

- 1. Setting up shop. Junior Zachary Feuerstein sets the volleyball to his team.
- 2. Polish 'em off. Sophomore Blake Sunderman hits a kill to the opposing team.
- 3. Hot Deal. Freshman Evan Gunning serves up the volleyball to the other team.
- 4. Closing up shop. Sophomore Scott Harris hits the volleyball over the net.
- 5. Serve and protect. Freshman Jason Halliday serves the ball to receive a point for his team.
- 6. Setting the record straight. Freshman Joseph Lee gets ready to set the ball so the team can get a point.
- 7. Setting the limit. Freshman Steven Crane sets the volleyball to freshman Josh Duarte to score against the opposing team.
- 8. Warm-up special. Freshman Tanner Tredick warms up before a game so they can win.
- 9. Hit the spot. Sophomore Mitchel Morris hits the ball during warm-up before the game.

Trent Poe

Senior Trent Poe, the first baseman and right field on the Valencia Vikings Varsity Baseball Team, has played on the team for all four of his years in high school and has been playing since he was five years old. Poe's favorite aspect of the game is teamwork because they win and lose as a team. His biggest achievement in baseball was when he hit his first home run. His role model is Rafael Palmera and his favorite baseball team is the Seattle Mariners. Poe's plan after high school is to "just keep on living."

Dylan Jones

Sophomore Dylan Jones was inspired by his father to play baseball and has been playing since he was four years old. He is one of the youngest members of the Valencia Vikings Varsity Baseball Team and says that he has learned a lot about teamwork and dedication. He works hard to meet the standards that the upperclassmen on the team have set. Jones' proudest moment in baseball is making the team in the Junior Olympics, which he will be participating in this year. Before every game, Jones has a special routine for getting ready by putting his shoes facing the left side of his locker, praying and making sure he does not step on the foul line during warm-ups. Jones is looking forward to setting an example on the team and learning more in his next years at Valencia High School.

1. Eyes like a hawk. Senior Christopher Matzner gets ready to go up to bat while Junior Robert Mouselli and Senior Jordan Bottenfield watch the game intently. 2. I'm ready for this. Senior Trent Poe keeps his eye on his teammates as he gets ready to throw the ball. 3. "Lean back." Junior Matthew Higgins reaches up to catch the ball. 4. Crouching tiger. Senior Christopher Matzner squats down and inches forward from first base ready to make a run to second. 5. Ready for action. Varsity baseball player Robert Mouselli prepares to go up to bat. 6. Hey batter, batter. Varsity catcher Daniel Linkmeyer intently watches the pitcher to catch the ball. 7. Head's up. Junior Joshua Corrales swings his arm back to throw the ball during a game. 8. "Fever Pitch." Senior pitcher Cameron Tillisch uses all of his concentration to skillfully throw the ball in the catcher's mitt.

-Justin Stover

Trevor Daggon

Sophomore Trevor Daggon has been on the baseball team for two years, but has been playing since he was four-years old. He plays pitcher and outfielder. Pitching is his favorite aspect of baseball because you control the game as a pitcher. Daggon's biggest baseball achievement was having a perfect game against Hart High School and he was so excited. Not only does Daggon play baseball, but is also involved in football. Even though he has no free time, he still manages to keep a 4.0 GPA. His role models are Julian Works and Chris Guerrero. After high school he plans on going to Santa Barbara for college.

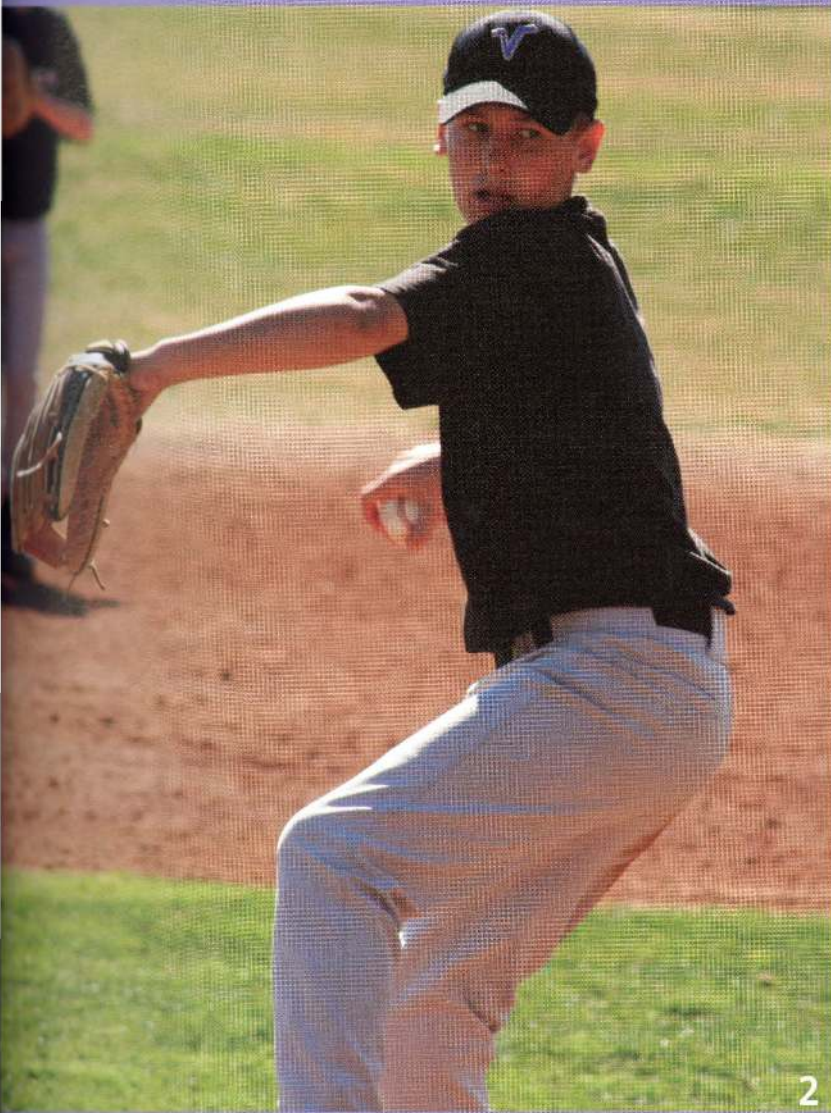

Kevin Rush

Freshman Kevin Rush has been on the baseball team since summer. His favorite part about being on the team is meeting more people, hanging out and having fun. He plays first base and right outfielder. His favorite aspect of baseball is the pressure because he usually gets nervous under pressure, and baseball helps him deal with it. His biggest baseball achievement was his first home run in Little League. He was so excited that he couldn't stop smiling. Aside from baseball, Rush also plays football and basketball. After high school, he'd like to get a full ride to any good college for sports, and if that doesn't happen he wants to work with computer arts and design because he loves to draw. His advice for other players is to keep playing because baseball can be frustrating at times, but don't give up.

- 1. Safe. Sophomore Dominick Solley slides into home.
- 2. Strike em' out. Freshman Dustin Higgins practices his pitching.
- 3. Be quick on your feet. Freshman Michael Bratt makes his way to first base.
- 4. Roller. Freshman Joshua Heffner punts the ball across the field.
- 5. Gather around. The entire Valencia Junior Varsity Baseball Team gathers around their coach for a pep talk between innings.
- 6. Fast ball. Sophomore Trevor Daggon pitches the ball during the Rio Mesa game.
- 7. Practice makes perfect. Freshman Scotland McKenzie practices his swing before he's up to bat.
- 8. Dead ahead. Freshman Tyler Anderson is up to bat at the La Salle game.
- 9. Way to work hard. Freshman Joshua Heffner makes it to second base.
- 10. One, two, three you're out. Freshman Adam Tapia pitches the ball during the St. Francis game.

Kristen Aidem

Senior Kristen Aidem has been playing softball ever since she was six years old. Playing on varsity for all four years, Aidem began her high school career in the right field position. While donating fifteen to twenty hours a week to softball she still maintains time for schoolwork and snowboarding with her friends. Aidem also enjoys watching her favorite professional team, the Los Angeles Dodgers. Inspired by her older brother, who plays baseball at Pepperdine University, Aidem was accepted to Michigan State where she hopes to major in interior design. Before every game Aidem listens to the same CD and the whole team drinks a Red Bull to get ready to play.

Jordan Taylor

Senior Jordan Taylor plays pitcher on the Varsity Softball Team. Starting at the age of four, Taylor enjoyed being on the team, being able to play and have fun with her friends. While practicing softball twelve to eighteen hours a week Taylor still finds time to study for her AP classes. Inspired by Jennie Finch, promoter of softball in the Olympics, Taylor received a full scholarship to Michigan State University. Before every game, Taylor and her teammates do the same warm up and then leave the field to talk until game time. For fellow players Taylor advises them to "never be late or you'll run, don't ever walk or you'll run, never pout while you run or you'll run some more and have fun!"

- 1. Batter up. Freshman Megan Foglesong rounds third base towards home plate to score another point for her team.
- 2. Sidewinder. Senior Nicole Matson receives a throw from third base tagging the hitter out from the opposing team.
- 3. Ground state. Junior Vanessa Emmett receives a grounder to first base during practice.
- 4. Glove catch. Junior Paige Smith catches the pitch right on target.
- 5. Delivery. Senior Lauren Rose throws towards second base to warm up her arm before the game.
- 6. Lightning bolt. Vanessa Emmet runs towards first base in hope of being safe.
- 7. Secured. Freshman Madison Shipman secures a throw from second base getting the hitter out.
- 8. Blind caper. Senior Alyssa Ishibashi winds up her arm to throw to first base hoping to receive a double play.
- 9. Safe return. Junior Jessica Spigner throws towards home plate to get the leading runner out.

Brittany Yukawa

Sophomore Brittany Yukawa plays shortstop on the Junior Varsity Softball Team. She has been playing non-stop since she was six years old and has played on the junior varsity team for two years. Her favorite part is her teammates and her coach, Dudley

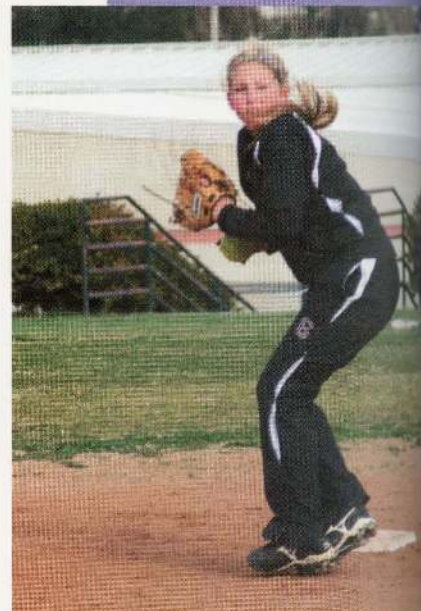

Rooney and the excitement of winning a game. Yukawa was shocked and really excited when she won two awards on junior varsity last year. During her free time, she likes to hang out with her friends, play travel-ball and volunteer, while also finding time to do homework. Her inspirations in softball are Dudley Rooney and teammate Alyssa Garza. Yukawa joined the softball team to get better and to be with her softball friends. After high school, she wants to go to a good college where she'll possibly play softball. For other softball players, she gives the advice to "try your best and never give up."

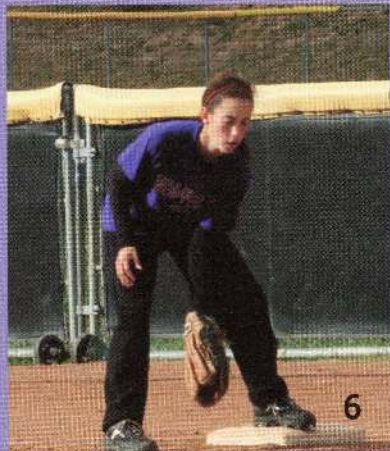

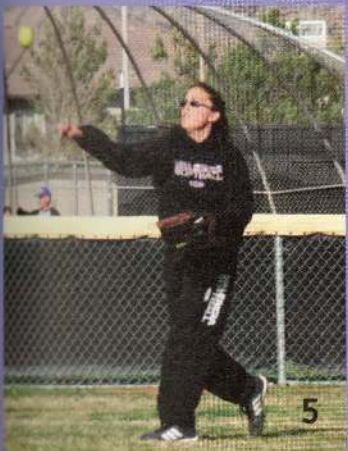

Chloe Larson

Freshman Chloe Larson plays pitcher and infield on the Freshman Softball Team. She has been playing since she was seven years old and loves it. Her favorite aspects of softball is that it's a team sport, being with friends and striking batters out.

The people who inspire her in softball are her parents and the coaches she's had over the years. After high school, Larson wants to go to a university to get a degree in aerospace engineering and hopefully continue to play softball. She practices twelve to fourteen hours a week and before every game, Larson has a good breakfast or lunch and warms up her arm. Some advice she gives to other softball players is to "stay true to yourself and don't get down on yourself when you fail."

- 1. Ground ball precision. Sophomore Brittany Yukawa catches a ground ball.
- 2. Warm it up right. Freshman Chloe Larson warms up her arm before she practices her pitching.
- 3. Got to bring it home. Freshman Arriane De Jesus throws the softball back to home plate.
- 4. Throw down. Sophomore Alyssa De Neal gets ready to throw the ball to the pitcher.
- 5. Build it up. Freshman Emery Bovard throws the softball to the coach to warm herself up.
- 6. Fast roller. Freshman Victoria Balta gets ready to catch a ground ball hit by the opposing team.
- 7. Magic glove. Freshman Leah Smith receives a grounder from the opposing hit making a play to second base.
- 8. Get her out. Sophomore Lindsay Clark throws the softball from the outfield to get a batter out.
- 9. Pitching machine. Sophomore Millie Weaver pitches a fast ball to the opposing team's batter.

VHS: Track and Field

"Track and field is a unified group of determined athletes committed to giving their best effort."

-Me Jung Park

Richard Huffaker

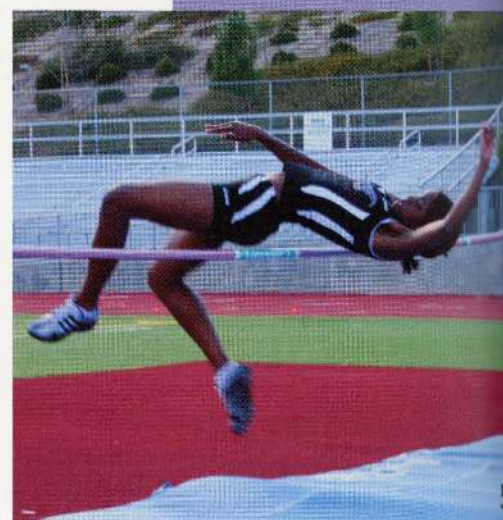

Senior Richard Huffaker has been on the track team for three years now. On the Valencia High School Track Team, Huffaker enjoys competing in the long jump, triple jump and high jump events. Practicing up to nine hours a week, Huffaker's biggest accomplishment was when he jumped twenty feet on the long jump. His biggest challenger on the Valencia High School Track Team is Marton Pollard, who motivates him to do his best. Huffaker's biggest rival in the school district is Canyon High School. Huffaker looks forward to life after high school, in which he will continue to run.

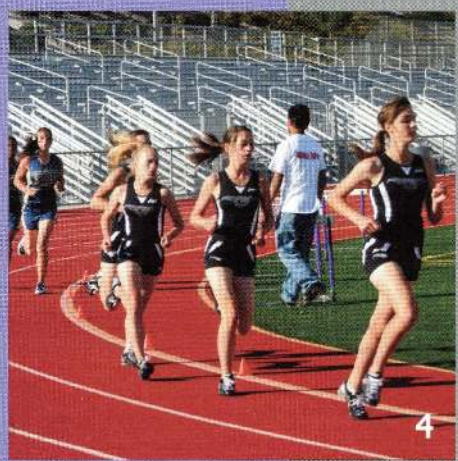

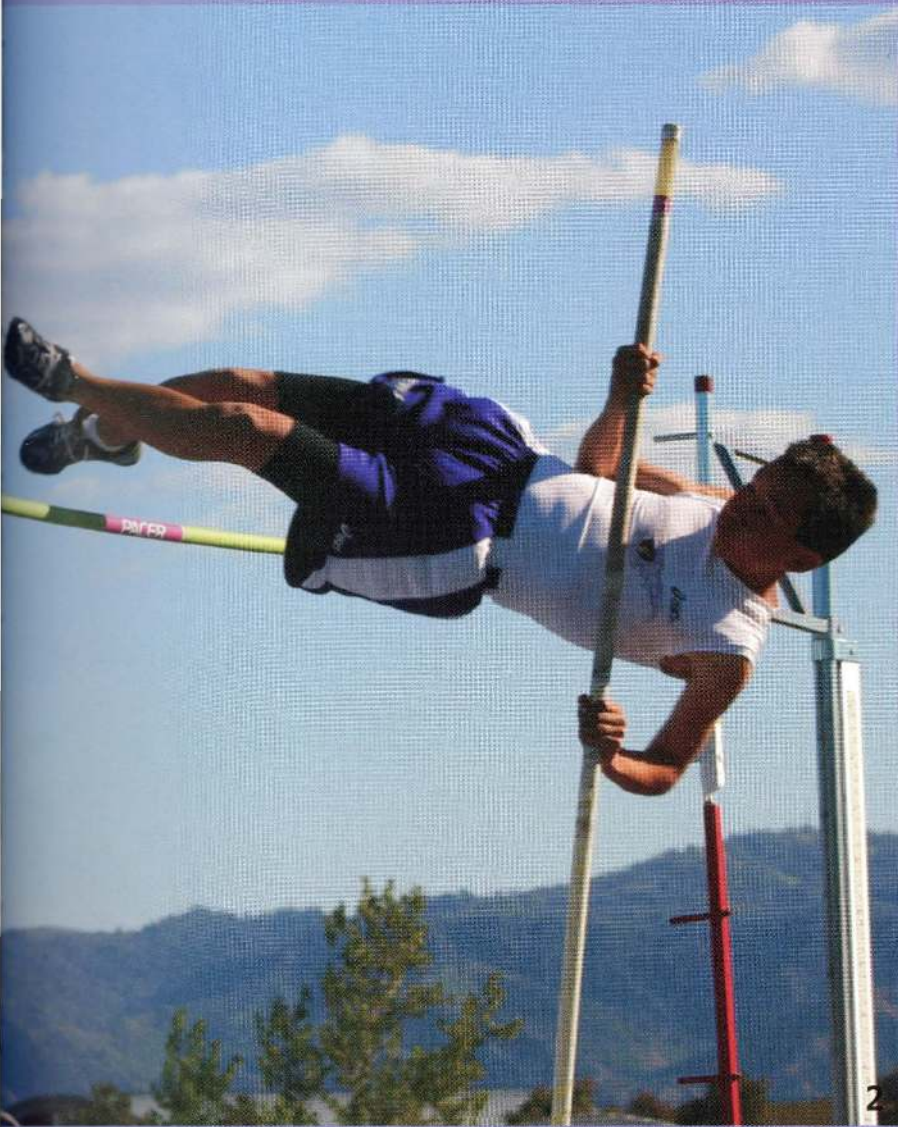

Taylor Miller

Senior Taylor Miller has been participating in track for five years now. She is extremely devoted to the Valencia High School Track Team and devotes all of her time to doing her best. On the track team her favorite event is the hurdles, in which she competes in the 100 and 300. Miller was inspired to start track at the age of twelve by her sister and her family who also participate in track as well. Her other inspiration are her coaches who always give her the advice and encouragement she needs to win her meets. Next year, she plans on attending College of the Canyons and then transferring to another college of her choice.

1. 99 meters to go. Freshman Rozanne Kim pumps her arms and legs as she sprints in the 100 meter dash competition. 2. Reach for the sky. Freshman Andrew Carrillo plants his pole into the ground as he throws his body through the air over a ten foot beam. 3. Ready, set, go. Track competitors from all over Santa Clarita Valley get ready to begin the 100 meter dash. 4. Sprint to the finish. Freshmen Kauri Perez, Megan Hayes and Madison White sprint around the last corner of the track racing to the finish line. 5. Over the top. Senior Sharice Anderson arches her body over the beam without touching it. 6. Up and over. Sophomore Aja Bernal completes her pole vault event by throwing herself over the beam to land on the mat. 7. A family sport. Senior Laura Gingrich practices her race start while her brother sophomore Collin Gingrich watches. 8. Leader of the pack. Junior Jessica Change leads her competitors behind as she races to the first hurdle. 9. Determined. Junior Nicholas Hale and Senior Shane Vereen prepare themselves for their 100 meter sprint. 10. Defying all odds and gravity. Senior Jonathan Schreiber does a clean jump over the beam during the pole vault competition.

"I like swimming because it gets you in shape."
-Kevin Latner

Garrett Nugent

Senior Garrett Nugent has been on swim team since his freshman year. He enjoys competitions because he is able to get a complete body workout while also having fun. Nugent has had many swim accomplishments, his best being the 50 Fly state record holder twice. Nugent has been swimming ever since he was three years old and even began swimming year-round when he was five. Now, Nugent dedicates 21 hours a week to the sport and lives to swim. Nugent's words of advice to other swimmers is to "keep swimming for fun and don't get serious to the point that it isn't enjoyable."

Kasey Hartsock

Senior Kasey Hartsock has been in competitive swim since she was eleven years old. Hartsock wishes to make it to junior nationals where she can race others who, like her, have the motivation to win. Other than swim, Hartsock has played the saxophone in band, volunteered at hospitals and developed an interest in drawing. Hartsock finds swim very time consuming but she says no matter what, it will always be a part of her life. Besides her parents, Hartsock is motivated by other swimmers such as Olympic medalist Michael Phelps. Next year Hartsock hopes to attend college on a swimming scholarship.

John Homa

Sophomore John "Max" Homa has been playing golf since he was two years old and tournaments since he was six. He has developed a pre-tournament routine that includes eating an energy bar, stretching, devising a game plan for his round and calming his nerves. This routine has helped him earn the nickname, Patten, which was given to him by his coach due to his leadership and strategizing skills, which made General Patten famous. This is his second year on the boys' golf team and he currently plays number one on the team. Homa's biggest achievement in his golf career has been an invitation to a tournament in which only 48 junior golfers were invited to. He ended up placing fifteenth, after which he felt extremely proud and excited. After high school, Homa hopes to play golf in college and then go professional. His greatest role model and golf player is Tiger Woods because of his great work ethic. Homa is extremely dedicated to golf, just like Tiger Woods, and practices about 25 hours a week with his teammates and individually. His advice for all golf players is "The harder you work, the better you'll be. Don't stop practicing."

Andrea Ferris

Senior Andrea Ferris first played golf when she was seven years old with her dad. Five years later she fell in love with it and two years later she joined the Valencia High School Girls Golf Team as a freshman. Golf is a huge part of Ferris' life leading her to practice around 20 hours a week. This dedication has paid off the past three years, when the girls golf team won three consecutive team CIF regionals. Before every match and tournament, the girls dance to the team song to loosen up and have fun, which is Ferris' advice to any golfer, along with working hard. This advice, tradition and the CIF wins have brought the team together, making them even closer than what Ferris already describes as "family." Other than her teammates, Ferris' favorite golfer is Adam Scott because "he's young, good looking and a great player." Ferris loves the way an individual sport like golf can become a team sport allowing "your efforts to beat the opposing team" to become a "battle to beat yourself." Ferris enjoys this battle and plans to continue fighting it after high school.

Our Dearest Kaitlyn,

Congratulation on your graduation! You know that we could not be any more proud of you. You are an incredible young lady who is smart and funny and very wise. You are our angel and for 18 years you have blessed our lives more than you will ever know. Keep your eyes on the prize, listen to your heart, and always believe in yourself. Know that we will always be behind you with our support, our faith, and our love.

Always, Mom & Dad

Hey Kait,

Congratulations little 'sis'! I'm really proud of you and I know that you'll be awesome in whatever you do in life. I also know that I could never ask for a better sister. I love you, Kyle

You have all the qualities in you to be successful in whatever you do. We are so proud. Love Nanny & Papau

Erica,
In the beginning God gave our family a most beautiful miracle. Your development through the years has been spectacular, grasping life's most important lessons. Your ability to relate to people of all ages and impact them is a reflection of the sparkle in your heart that stands above most. It has been you and I together growing and taking life's challenge. As your Mother, I couldn't be more proud of how well you have prepared yourself to embrace the world. Keep eager for your dreams and humble in your heart. "It is by your deeds that you are known"

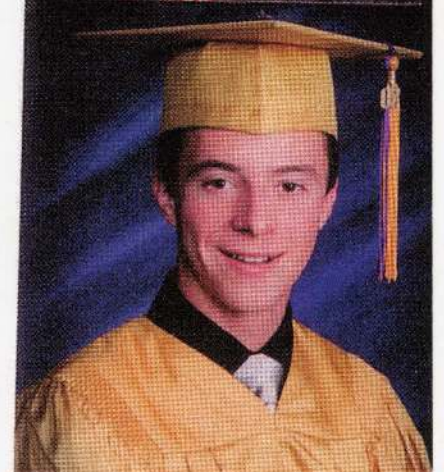

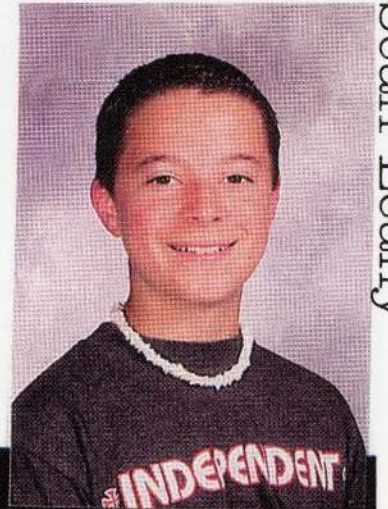

Much Love, Mama

Bud,

We're so proud of the wonderful young man you have become. You have always been a light in our lives, never failing to make those around you laugh. We are sure the future holds nothing but great things for you, and we know you will continue to make us proud.

Es increíble como pasa el tiempo de rapido. Me siento tan orgullosa de ser tu mama, tu eres todo lo que yo sone ser y se perfectamente sin duda alguna que triunfaras y llegaras hacer realidad todas las metas que te cruses. Nunca cambies sigue siendo la muchacha responsable, inteligente y bella que eres. Y ten siempre en mente que yo siempre estare a tu lado para lo que necesites. Nunca permitas que nadie te haga cambiar sigue siendo Tu y solamente Tu. Te quiero muchisimo y muchas felicidades por tu graduacion. Tu mama Patty

Dear Lindsay,
I can't believe time has passed so fast, just yesterday I remember you in your sunflower hats and Barbie toys. Right in front of our eyes you have grown up to be a beautiful young woman ready to conquer the world. Always keep that bright smile and attitude. Enjoy your senior year. Set goals and achieve them.
Congrats,
Julio, Allyssa & Julian Moscotte

To Lindsay:
I can't believe you are finally a senior. I want you to know that I am very proud of you and I can't wait to see you graduate. Always remember that you can acheive anything you set your mind to, Don't ever let anyone tell you otherwise.
Love,
Theresa

Lindsay, Congratulations!! You have succeeded in accomplishing amazing things in the past four years and I have no doubt that you will continue to do so in college. You are very talented and have many abilities...use them! Keep signing, I know it will come to great use for you one day. Best of luck with everything your future holds!
Love, Julie Kovacs

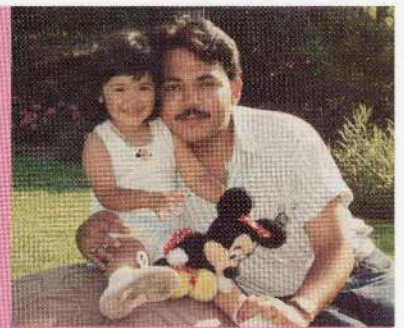

Hello Linto!
Congratulations to my niece Lindsay on this special day. We feel very proud of your achievements! Keep going because the sky is the limit !!!!!
Your Uncle and Aunt,
Luis and Nora Moscotte.

Lindsay,
I'm so proud to be ur uncle. You're such a bright girl and I hope you take advantage of the gifts God has given you. Go as far as your dreams will take you. Always be true to yourself.
Uncle Manny

Lindsay:
El fruto que hoy cosechas; es regalo de Dios por ser constante y dedicada. Comparto tu triunfo porque te llevo siempre en mi corazon. Tu abuelita que te quiere muchisimo.
Elena

Lindsay,
You started as the delicate, little princess whom everyone doted. Now, you've grown into the jewel in our eyes whose beauty and maturity is beyond our expectations.
Love,
Moscotte & Arden

Lindsay,
 It is an honor for me to be your Godmother. I feel blessed for having such an amazing young lady as my niece and Goddaughter. To know that you want to follow my footsteps of working in the legal field makes me even prouder. Don't give up your dream of wanting to become an attorney. I have faith in you and I know you'll go all the way. Teenage years are probably the most difficult years in a human being's life, and you have proven to the world that no matter how tough things may be at times, you don't let anything bring you down. You are one tough cookie and you will make a great lawyer some day. Please stay sweet and beautiful and may God bless you always and guide you through the right path.
 Love always,
 Tia Nidia

Hey Lindsay:
 I can't believe you are a senior already! Your adult life is about to begin and more responsibilities come with it. Knowing you, I believe you are going to make the right choices, that you will achieve your goals, therefore, you will be a very successful professional no matter what field you choose. Just want to remind how special you are to me and that I wish you the best. Have a wonderful senior year, have fun, attend every event you can and have a wonderful and successful life. I am here for you if you ever need me. Remember: Is not where you start, but where you finish!
 Love,
 Alma A. Salazar

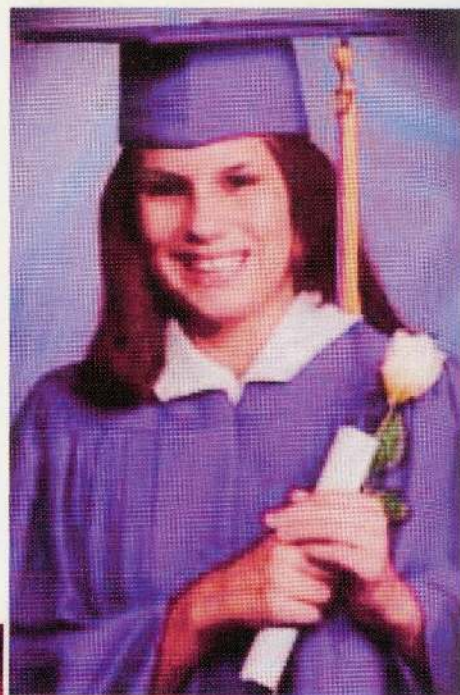

Lindsay-
 I searched high and low for words which would speak of my love and all that I want and hope for you. I finally found them deep inside my heart close to where you are my daughter!!
 Please know that your hard work, perseverance, tenacity, your strong spirit and desire to succeed in life despite all the obstacles and challenges you have faced and over come so far have made me very proud of you and your number one admirer.
 Follow your dreams and reach out for the stars and however far you fly....I'll always be there for you. Congratulations on your accomplishments!
 With all my love,
 Dad

Lindsay:
 Congratulations and best wishes as you embark on another great journey and head for college! You're destined for a wonderful future.
